Pacifica's Police, Firemen Differ on Pay Parity

Arguments Favoring Police Submitted

Pacifica policemen, through their Employes Association representative, made an open bid for a break in pay parity with the city's firemen last week.

In a last-minute decision to actively seek the pay differential, police employes representative Willard Farris, though the City Employees Association, submitted a brief supporting the break in parity to the personnel commission.

Personnel commissioners are expected to release a comprehensive report and recommendation on the matter Thursday.

Though individual policemen have testified before the commission in their deliberations, the Employees Association had not previously entered the dispute on a formal basis.

Policemen and most other city employes are members of the association. Firemen, however, have their own union, and are not association members.

In the memorandum sent to commissioners Friday, Farris pointed out a number of arguments in support of increasing police pay above the level of that for firemen.

"The two jobs are entirely different, and should be paid differently," the policemen's spokesman said.

"While giving full recognition to the importance of the Fire Department and its high standards, we believe that like salary treatment of unlike jobs can no longer be justified."

The problems of fire fighting are "physically definable," Farris said, and firemen's duties "can be reduced to mechanical standards," while the problems of law enforcement "are to a certain extent intangible."

In addition, firemen work in groups and under "immediate direction from their superior officers," while policemen work alone and without direct supervision a great percentage of the time, according to the police representative.

"A policeman also has the responsibility of carrying a gun, and making legal and moral decisions concerning its use," he said.

Problems of retention and employee turnover and "difficulty in recruitment" in the police department were also cited as indications of a need for higher pay.

"The problem of retention and turnover in the Pacifica Police Department has reached a critical level," Farris said, "while the records show there is no problem in this area in the fire department."

He also noted that 80 applicants were tested in a recent examination for prospective policemen, "and not one applicant met all the qualifications."

"In another recent police exam, 95 persons applied, and only four successfully passed all phases."

"On the other hand, the fire department has never experienced any difficulty in recruiting," Farris said. "The job has

Firemen's Spokesmen Disagree Sharply

By DON GRIERSON

Pacifica firemen have filed a report outlining "the case for parity in police and fire salaries" with the city's personnel commission, to counterbalance an earlier petition presented by the police department and favoring "disparity" in pay.

The firemen's petition, presented by Fire Fighters Union President Joseph A. Bonollo and Capt. James "Babe" Evan, union secretary, disagrees sharply with the police assessment of the issue, and warns that a break in parity would result in serious problems of morale within the fire department.

"It would hit the members of the department where most people live—in their pride," the firemen's report states.

In discussing the matter today, Evans and other fire department spokesmen were highly critical of the personnel advisory commission for even raising the issue of pay parity between the two departments.

"The commission, in effect, is trying to solve a problem by creating a problem that never existed," the fire captain said.

Consideration of the parity issue is "causing embarrassment for people in both departments," he said, and "commissioners would have done well to devote their efforts to finding ways to raise the salaries of personnel in both departments to a level comparable to those in neighboring cities."

The firemen's report offers rebuttals to the arguments favoring a break in parity, and cites statistics indicating that firefighting is a more hazardous occupation than police work.

The report also points out that a recent survey of job classifications and pay schedules conducted for the city by the Griffenhagen-Kroeger consulting firm produced the recommendation that parity be maintained.

Firemen note that the consulting firm recommended against several requests submitted by their department, and city officials said at that time they would have to accept the survey report "because the experts know best."

"On the same basis, we now ask the city to adhere to the professional recommendation on parity," the report states.

Evans was critical of the police department's argument that higher pay for their personnel is needed to improve the level of "recruitment and retention" of personnel.

"While it is true their personnel turnover is greater than ours, we do not feel that the issue of pay is a significant factor," he said.

"Most of the policemen leaving the department simply go on to better jobs, and break in parity would not change this situation."

Though the turnover in the fire department has been small, Evans noted that the reason there has been no problem in recruitment lies largely in the fact that the city has authorized

SCHUMACHER

Attorney New Jeff Trustee

Attorney William J. Schumacher was appointed to the Jefferson Elementary School District Board of Trustees Monday, replacing veteran trustee Thomas Noonan, who announced his resignation last month.

Currently an assistant San Mateo County district attorney, Schumacher is a former Daly City police sergeant, and holds a Doctor of Jurisprudence degree from the University of San Francisco.

He is also a graduate of San Francisco State College, and City College of San Francisco. He attended Lincoln High School in San Francisco.

A veteran of the Korean War, Schumacher is married and has three children, two of whom attend the Jefferson Elementary District schools.

He is a member of the California State Bar, the San Mateo and North County Bar Associations, and the Daly City Toastmasters' Club.

Schumacher's appointment is effective immediately, according to Board Chairman Ed Tomasello.

New Plans For Complex By Catholics

The San Francisco Roman Catholic Archdiocese has apparently decided to capitulate to the wishes of South San Francisco planning officials and delete a proposed high school from the long-delayed church-school complex in Westborough.

Representatives of Caesar-Callan Homes, Inc., developers of the Westborough Planned Community, have filed for a plan amendment to allow development of a church-elementary school complex on a portion of the 18-acre site originally slated for the larger development.

Church officials ran into stiff opposition from South San Francisco Planner Daniel Pass and members of the planning commission two years ago when they submitted plans to build a church, a high school, elementary school and rectory on the east side of Callan Boulevard.

Pass and other city officials objected to the proposed development on grounds it would remove valuable land from the tax rolls, exhaust the "last area available for residential development in the city," and generate a traffic hazard and nuisance by attracting high school students from surrounding communities.

However, planners indicated several months ago that the development would be acceptable if the high school use were deleted.

The present application calls for development of approximately eight acres of the origi-

Bayshore Link Is Announced

Inclusion of a significant link between the Junipero Serra Freeway and Bayshore Freeway in the U.S. Department of Transportation's interstate highway system was announced today by Congressman Paul N. "Pete" McCloskey.

"This decision is an important one for North San Mateo County," McCloskey said. "The new link will assist materially in relieving congestion around the airport. It will also hasten the completion date of the full 6.2 miles of Route 186 between the airport and Pacifica."

The 1.6-mile stretch is part of the proposed Route 186, which will run eventually from Bayshore to Pacifica. Under terms of the Federal Highway Act, the federal government will provide 90 per cent of the necessary construction funds.

Of 1,400 miles of additional highway authored by Congress this year, three projects were awarded to California out of 20 requested.

S.S.F. Council Withdraws Chamber Financial Support

$10,000 City Contribution Is Withheld

Mayor Frank Bertucelli and members of the South San Francisco council have withdrawn the city's financial support for the Chamber of Commerce until further notice, because of the chamber's "poor showing" in the areas of membership gains and city promotions.

The chamber officials were literally "called upon the carpet" of the council room Monday to account for their activities during the past three years.

Bertucelli said the annual $10,000 city contribution for C of C activities will be withheld "at least until next May," when the council will "review progress and again consider the chamber's request for allocation of funds."

According to Bertucelli, C of C officials promised "three years and $33,000 ago that membership would be increased from 120 to 500 by this time."

Instead, membership has increased by only 64 "paying members" to 184.

Bertucelli and the council members also expressed displeasure with the chamber's record in the area of "promoting the city."

Chamber President Bill Borba, who was present at the meeting along with manager Jack Flynn and Gordon Murphy, a C of C committee chairman, admitted that he and other officials had been "somewhat overly optimistic" three years ago when the chamber was

An Editorial

College of San Mateo Meets the Challenge

The trustees and the administration of the San Mateo Junior College District are to be complimented for measuring up to their responsibilities in taking the necessary actions to protect the students and the publicly owned property of the College of San Mateo.

The behavior of the unruly and unreasoning student minorities, and their non-student supporters, who created chaotic conditions on the campus last week, and who continue to threaten further disorders, has to be restrained. They cannot be allowed any control over any of the college processes when they, so obviously, cannot control themselves.

The trustees and the administration are exercising the restraint that is necessary to protect persons and property. It takes courage to do this and they have met the challenge.

Those who may deplore the need to carry out the academic function under conditions requiring the presence of police need to be reminded that the police will not be required if the dissident students will behave themselves.

It is to be hoped that the guilty students will be ashamed of the excesses they have committed. That will be a first step back to the normalcy that everyone wants to see re-established at the College of San Mateo.

Trustees Reaffirm Ewigleben's Stand

By TOM POWELL

The San Mateo Junior College District Board of Trustees on Tuesday strongly supported an enlarged commitment to College of San Mateo's Readiness Program by Dr. Robert Ewigleben, president. The decision followed the announcement late yesterday that the college is relieving two program leaders of their duties.

The campus was calm as hundreds of police continued their patrol and check points.

They were called to the campus over the weekend after the violent outbreak Friday that resulted in $15,000 damage and a dozen injuries.

Dr. Ewigleben announced Monday evening that Bob Hoover, one of the Readiness Program leaders for more than a year, and Jean Wirth, co-founder of the program, will be relieved of their duties and reassigned to other positions in the district.

The president offered little explanation of the decision. He said that it was a "personnel matter."

There was speculation, however, that Hoover was relieved because he was one of the main speakers at a rally preceding Friday's riot.

The trustees, meeting yesterday, took special pains to emphasize their united support of education for minorities.

It promised any funds available would be used to advance the Readiness Program and related efforts by the district.

In announcing the shift of readiness personnel, Dr. Ewigleben stated, "This was an administrative decision made by myself to, I think, strengthen the program. Events of the past few weeks indicate that we have to have a change in leadership to bring about some of our goals and aspirations."

When asked if he thought Hoover was "too militant" to hold

'I Feared For My Life,' Says CSM Student

"I was beaten up pretty badly and had reason to fear for my life," an adult electronics student at College of San Mateo related today about his run-in with the roving band of demonstrators who broke into the Electronics building at about 2 p.m. last Wednesday.

John Matthews, 36, of San Bruno, an electrician taking one course in electronics at CSM, said he was just leaving the building when the mob appeared. He estimated them to be all Negro and recognized only two of them.

"This looked like a goon squad of non-students," he recounted.

Most were brandishing three-foot-long steel pipes, he said. Three instructors were attacked at the doorway first, he recalled, then himself. He suffered a two-inch bruise across the back from shoulder to shoulder from a blow by a pipe and a black eye, split lip and other facial injuries from a pounding from fists.

"I got off easy compared to the student with a blue armband who was just walking by and was hit on the back of the neck by one Negro with a piece of pipe."

The student was Herbert Knudson, 26, of San Mateo.

Matthews said he also saw television cameraman Ed Popejoy of San Jose's Channel 11 hit, his camera smashed and Popejoy himself stomped by as many as 15 demonstrators.

"I also think some of this

Woman Beaten, Robbed in S.S.F.

A South San Francisco woman was beaten and robbed on a dark street near her home Monday, moments after she refused the help of a 'good Samaritan" who warned her that a man was following her.

Barbara Ann Murray, of 808 Byron, was struck in the face and robbed of her purse in the 800 block of Alta Loma Drive about 11 p.m.

According to police, Mrs. Murray, 31, was walking up Alta Loma after getting off a bus at El Camino Real and Hickey when a strange man in a station wagon stopped and offered her a ride, stating there was a man behind her.

Thinking that the man in the station wagon was attempting a "pickup," the woman refused his assistance, and he drove away.

A few moments later, she looked back and spotted the other man on foot. He approached the lone woman, pulled a knife and demanded her purse.

Mrs. Murray resisted, police said, and the man described as a Negro between 35 and 40, six feet, four inches tall and weighing approximately 200 pounds, struck her in the face with his fist.

The man then grabbed her purse, which contained two dollars and fled on foot.

The suspect was dressed in a white jacket and a black beret, and wore a thin mustache, according to police.

About five minutes after the strongarm robbery occured on Alta Loma, another woman was struck in the face and robbed of a shopping bag in front of her home on nearby Camaritas Circle.

Marcia Lujan, 60 of 893 Camaritas Circle, was walking up the sidewalk to her front door at 11:05 p.m. when she heard someone running behind her, police said.

Her assailant ran across the street and fled in a car. Mrs. Lujan was unable to describe the robber, except to say he was wearing a "light jacket."

Jeff High's Concerned About Money

The Jefferson High School District, which serves students in Daly City and Pacifica, Monday night reacted with considerable concern over reports the U.S. Health and Welfare Department might reduce Public Law 874 fund allocations by half.

Federal funds under the law are granted school districts for vocational education purposes and for districts in which workers at federal installations and facilities reside.

For Jefferson High District last year that meant $116,000.

This year, they had budgeted

Formal D.C. Reply Issued to BARTD

Daly City officials have issued a formal reply to the Bay Area Rapid Transit District's rejection of their proposal for an underground station and seven other changes in the design of the BART facilities in the city.

The joint statement by Mayor Bernard "Bud" Lycett and council members again criticized the BART directors for proceeding with their study and rejection of the design changes without further consulting the city.

"The BARTD staff made independent conclusions on cost figures for the city's eight points," the city officials stated. "At least they should have carried out the intent of the motion of June 20 and met with the city to discuss the station design and other points mentioned."

"Their incomplete conclusions evidence the lack of consultation or discussion on either the engineering or needs of the Daly City area involved."

The city officials charged that the BART staff "unduly dominates policy decisions between the two political jurisdictions" involved in the dispute.

"In order to set the record straight, the blame for the current impasse falls squarely on BARTD," the city statement, prepared by City Manager Ed Frank, alleges.

Frank charged that it is the district, by their unwillingness to meet with the city, that is holding up the project, "and not the elected officials and staff of Daly City."

City officials said that a letter to Mayor Lycett from BART president James P. Doherty was "a last-minute attempt to reorganized from a part-time operation to a full-time organization with a manager-secretary.

"We were going under a full head of steam then," Borba said, "but enthusiasm dwindled away. We are working now to renew that kind of enthusiasm."

"We do not intend to hurt the Chamber," Councilman Frank Mammini said Monday, "but only to assure that the taxpayers' money is being spent wisely. We must see some return to the investment."

However, Murphy said the council's action in cutting off the funds will result in a "serious depletion in services provided by the Chamber of Commerce."

The chamber officials promised to launch a concerted membership drive and other city-approved activities in the immediate future, in an attempt to enlist more of the 1,200 licensed business concerns in the city.

According to the mayor, the chamber's performance between now and May 1 will determine whether or not city funds are allocated.

The C of C receives approximately $12,000 per year through membership dues, but this amount is not sufficient to carry on operations, according to the officers.

In the past, the city has allocated its $10,000 contribution "around Januay 1" of each year.

The chamber has undergone drastic reorganization several times within the past three years, and has been served by three different managers.

San Bruno's Chamber Elects Staff

The board of directors of the San Bruno Chamber of Commerce have elected Harold H. Highsmith president for 1969.

Highsmith, owner of Highsmith Realty in San Bruno, has served on the Chamber Board for the past three years.

During 1968 he was chairman of the chamber's education committee.

Highsmith succeeds William J. Schneider, manager of Fairway Leasing, who was president for three and a half years.

Elected to serve with Highsmith on the executive committee were vice-president James Holderby, manager of Bank of California, and treasurer Dick Stagg, owner of Stagg's Photographers.

The three were elected at the chamber's monthly board meeting Tuesday.

The membership of the Chamber of Commerce balloted last Thursday for ten directors and five incumbents were selected to serve the two-year terms.

The directors are Gene Gallagher, San Bruno stationers; Jack Head, Pacific Telephone; Norm Merkel, Federal Aviation Administration; Al Race, Bank of America; Don Risso, San Bruno Postmaster.

Returning to the board for two-year terms are Ken Chapman, Chapman's Youth Fashion Shoppe; Lloyd Ghiselli, Pacific Gas & Electric Company; Harold Highsmith, Highsmith Realty; Bill Schneider, Fairway Leasing; Bill Wilson, Melody Rambler-Toyota.

The newly-elected officers and directors will be installed at the chamber's nineteenth annual "Installation Dinner-Dance" at the Green Hills Country Club January 11.

KAISER'S TELEPHONE LINES CUT

Telephone lines in the administrative office of the Kaiser Hospital in South San Francisco were cut sometime Sunday night, police reported Tuesday.

Police said hospital authorities reported every telephone wire in the office of the emergency hospital was severed with wire cutters by someone who entered the building through a bathroom window.

Employees at all the Bay Area Kaiser Hospitals, including the South San Francisco facility, are currently on strike.

nal 18-acre site for the church-elementary school use.

Planning staff members have indicated that the amendment now proposed "is supported by the tenets and precepts of sound urban planning."

However, the application is incomplete in several technical details, and formal action will probably be postponed at the regular commission, meeting Monday.

In other business this week, the Rodeway Inns of America Co. has applied for a use permit to construct a nine-story, 208-room motel at the corner of South Airport Boulevard and Marco Way.

According to plans submitted to the planning office, the motel complex will include a dining room, coffee shop and cocktail lounge, and will rise to a height of 95.5 feet.

Pass has recommended approval of the use permit for the project, and commissioners are expected to consider the application at their regular meeting Monday.

Pass said the light obstruction brought about by the building's considerable height would be ameliorated by the deep building set backs on South Airport Boulevard and Marco Way."

Pacifica Police, Firemen Disagree on Pay 'Parity' only three new positions in the past three years.

Firemen also note that their department was established in Pacifica several years before the police department was formed, and thus they naturally had no need for "mass recruitment" of personnel over a short period of time.

"The position that a department should be penalized because of its success in retaining trained and experienced personnel is too absurd for words," Evans said.

Personnel advisory commissioners are expected to present their recommendation on the parity issue Thursday night.

If the commission recommends a break in pay parity, the matter will then go before the city council.

If no change is recommended, council consideration will not be necessary.

always attracted more qualified people than the city can expect to hire."

The personnel commission launched the study of police and fire department salaries several months ago after both groups appealed for pay increases in excess of the general five per cent raise awarded all city employes.

The study has reportedly shifted from the original general question of police and fire department salaries to the issue of parity.

Police and firemen in the city are currently paid on an esual basis.

the post, the silver-haired president replied, "That didn't go into my decision."

"I made the decision with the expectation in mind that the program and the college would be improved."

He did not comment on speculation that the relief of Hoover, a favorite of the militants, would anger the minority group even more.

Philip Morris, a leading white activist against racism, will replace Hoover on an interim basis.

In addition, Dr. Ewigleben announced the imminent formation of a "total tutorial center" for the entire college. It would serve needs, he said, of the disadvantaged — both of the minority and of the majority.

The trustees reiterated "total support" of the action taken by the administration over the past few days to "secure the health and safety of students and faculty."

At the same time, they pointed out a "sincere effort" to accommodate minorities' educational needs in this district.

At the trustees' meeting, representatives of the United Students for Order presented a petition containing some 1,700 signatures calling for education in a safe environment and backing the administration's recent action.

Although each board member spoke in favor of the administration's actions as well as continued support of the Readiness Program, U.S. Simonds Jr., apparently summed up the feeling of the board:

"I could tell these students who feel they have come from underprivileged families — I could tell them a few stories about my family background. I represent working people and I know some of their problems. This college has reached down and assisted these people."

The traffic situation, which was rather confused Monday, had smoothed out yesterday, so that people coming on to the campus were delayed only ten minutes.

$98,000, which represented 80 per cent of the Jefferson entitlement, but it had been understood that what really could be expected was $119,000.

On the basis of the anticipated receipt of more funds than budgeted, the local district had earmarked some $29,000 of it for teacher salary increases.

But word received from Dr. John W. Nicoll, Vallejo superintendent of schools, appeared to dash those hopes — if a Washington, D.C., educational source was correct in alarming that HEW would make only half of the $505-million 1969 Congressional appropriation available.

"Serious trouble is brewing for impact area funding," stated a telegram to Nicoll.

It noted "only half" of the total appropriation would be available before next July 1 and that payments are now being made at 35 per cent of entitlements, with "no firm policy for additional payments."

The Jefferson administrators express concern, but admit "we don't know how much to panic," because there's been nothing really official about what HEW actually plans to do.

The local district's trustees Monday night transferred $289,275 from its undistributed reserve to other funds, most of which were salary categories.

The transfers left a balance of less than $20,000 in the undistributed reserve, its lowest point in years.

A spokesman for the district said the reserve level "historically" has been maintained at $100,000 or over.

Two Safety Projects OK'd

SACRAMENTO (PCNS)—Two traffic safety projects for San Mateo County were approved Friday by the California Highway Commission.

One calls for widening Alemany Boulevard for installation of left turn lanes at Poncetta and at Sheffield Drives in Daly City. Traffic Signals will also be modified and new signals added at Poncetta Drive and South Mayfair Ave.

Estimated cost of the work is $50,000. The Commission allocated $30,000 of the cost with the city paying the balance.

The second project is at the intersection of Route 114 and Middlefield Road in Redwood City. It includes modification of traffic signals and addition of highway lighting.

could have been contrived," Matthews went on. "The black leaders showed up just one or two minutes after the attack, while the teachers were still checking the building for injured. The white kids in the building were in a mood to take somebody apart and I think these leaders wanted bumps on themselves to show the press how they had been roughed up. We succeeded in keeping them apart and preventing more trouble. though."

Rebuff Firemen In Parity Plan

Daly City firemen were rebuffed again Monday in their attempt to achieve pay parity with the city's policemen, but the council approved a request for a three-hour reduction in the basic work week for fire department personnel.

The present 63-hour work week was reduced to 60 hours, effective July 1, 1969.

Action on 11 other demands submitted by the Firemen's Benevolent Association's attorney two weeks ago was postponed until a later date, and the demands will be taken up again "prior to July 1, 1969."

The council vote on both the issues Monday was unanimous.

In a 23-page "reply petition" submitted to the council, firemen's attorney Richard E. Hearndon contended two weeks ago that City Attorney Ed Frank's reply to an earlier petition submitted by firemen was "rank with errors, inaccurate, and slanted statistics."

Prior to introducing the latest petition for council action Monday, Mayor Bernard Lycett stated that both the manager's report on the matter and the petitions submitted by the firemen contained "minor errors," but indicated they were prepared and submitted "in good faith."

Firemen have repeatedly demanded a five per cent "across-the-board" pay increase to eliminate the differential between fire and police department salaries inaugurated with this year's budget.

The five percent increase would have cost the city approximately $17,300, a sum which firemen maintain the city could "well afford."

In addition to pay parity with the city's policemen, fire department personnel have demanded a cost of living pay raise, eventual reduction of the basic work week to 56 hours, and the hiring of about 18 additional men to provide "an adequate manpower level, pursuant to the recommendations of Fire Chief Herb Ritzmann."

clarify the situation by bypassing the over-all picture affecting BARTD and Daly City."

The letter, mailed December 11 after the BART engineering staff recommended scrapping the Daly City demands "unless the city can provide the financing," points out that there is no money available for the design changes.

According to the BART Engineering Committee, the city's proposed design changes would cost an additional $4.5 million.

In addition to the proposal for an underground station, city officials have sought to have included in the design provisions for additional parking space, extensive street improvements in the area surrounding the station and "grade separation" at The Knowles.

The city also requested that the street improvements be performed in accordance with the requirements of the city engineer as to construction standards, and that BARTD bear the cost of maintenance of traffic signals to be installed in connection with the project.

The BART president's letter concludes with a suggestion that the district's engineering committee and city councilmen meet again "when you have arrived at a method of funding the additional costs, or are willing to agree to the District's design."

No Delays Expected On Freeway Job

State Highway Commissioners have ruled that a change in alignment of the proposed Freeway 186 interchange in Pacifica will not necessitate further public hearings and delays in the project.

Commissioners ruled last week that a new plan shifting the interchange 1500 feet to the north of the original line is a "modification" of the original design, and not a "relocation of the route."

Had the commission decided the new "J" line plan constitutes a relocation of the freeway, public hearings requiring "from one to two additional years" would have been necessay, according to Pacifica City Manager S. W. Masonheimer.

The question of whether or not the design changes would necessitate further hearings has also held up formal agreement on the freeway project by the Division of Highways.

Mexican Unit Plans Fiesta

A newly organized Daly City Mexican group, the Hermanos Latinos, will sponsor a fiesta Sunday in the War Memorial Community Center on Mission Street.

Pacifica Teacher Suicide

A Pacifica woman hanged herself with an electric cord in the garage of her Montezuma Avenue home early Monday, police reported.

Mrs. Masalda Spicer, 48, a teacher in the Laguna Salada Elementary School District's Sanchez School, was found hanging from a rafter in the garage by her husband, Joseph, about 2:50 a.m. today.

Mrs. Spicer and her husband retired around midnight, according to police reports, and she apparently went into the garage while her husband slept.

Mrs. Spicer had been "emotionally disturbed," and had applied for sick leave from her teaching duties beginning December 20, officers said.

She reportedly attempted suicide by walking into the surf at a Pacifica beach last month.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Spicer is survived by three children and other relatives.

Moderate Construction Gains in County

Construction activity of all types, including residentials, recorded moderate gains throughout San Mateo County during October, over previous month levels," it was reported today by Harvey Brenner, manager of Eureka Federal Savings and Loan Association in San Bruno.

Construction activity is measured by the number of authorisations for building permits issued during a given month in an area.

October activity advanced San Mateo County from fifth to fourth position among the San Francisco Bay Area's nine counties, with valuations for construction of all types totalling $12,367,000, a jump over September's $8,034,000 and was well ahead of the $8,622,000 recorded for October 1967," Brenner said.

The construction report is based on the latest information from the San Francisco Field Office of the U.S. Dept. of Commerce and from Eureka Federal Savings' research division.

throughout San Mateo County amounted to $5,226,000 in October, representing 236 units authorised, compared to $4,585,000 and 207 units approved in September," Brenner declared.

"October levels also were well ahead of the 221 units valued at $4,868,000 for which building permits were issued during the same period last year," the Eureka Federal manager added.

"Of the 236 residential units authorized in the County in October, 158 were single-family dwellings, four were in two-unit buildings; 12 were in three and four unit structures; and 62 were in five or more unit apartment buildings," according to the Rureka Federal manager.

Residential activity in a number of communities in San Mateo County was reported by Brenner:

In Belmont, six units valued at $177,000 authorized in October, down from 13 units $344,000 in September and below the 10 units, $258,000 for October, 1967.

San Carlos, one unit valued at $28,000 approved in October; four unit structures; and 62 were in five or more unit apartment buildings," according to the Rureka Federal manager.

Residential activity in a number of communities in San Mateo County was reported by Brenner:

In Belmont, six units valued at $177,000 authorized in October, down from 13 units $344,000 in September and below the 10 units, $258,000 for October, 1967.

San Carlos, one unit valued at $28,000 approved in October; one unit valued at $29,000 approved in September; well below the 11 units $286,000 for October last year.

Redwood City, 22 units valued at $414,000 approved in October, a gain over 10 units, $194,000 for September; and up from seven units, $123,000 for the same period a year ago.

San Bruno, 28 units valued at $425,000 in October, down from 33 units, $470,000 in September; but ahead of October, 1967's two units, $46,000.

Millbrae, 31 units, $390,000 for October, up over nine units, $125,000 for September and five units, $145,000 for October of last year.

South San Francisco recorded no activity, same as for September; and down from four units, $40,000 for October, 1967.

Daly City, up in October with 23 units, $438,000 compared to five units $91,000 in September; and ahead of the 20 units, $326,000 recorded for the same month last year.

Pacifica, down in October with five units, $120,000 compared to September's 27 units, $500,000 and well behind the 67 units, $1,207,000 for October last year.

Half Moon Bay, three units valued at $51,000 approved in October, down from six units, $111,000 in September and behind the five units, $62,000 for the same period a year ago.

1968 College Fund Essay Winners Told

Two seventh grade boys and a ninth grade girl have walked off with top honors in the Fifth Annual College Fund Essay Contest for sixth through ninth grade students presented in their three San Mateo County communities.

The three first place winners, each presented with $150 savings accounts before some 110 guests at an Awards Banquet in San Francisco, were 12-year-old Craig M. Staas, Pacifica; 12-year-old Steve Mikesell, San Wycoff, San Bruno.

Each of the winners also received a handsome leather-bound, gold edged dictionary with their names engraved on cover plates.

Craig Staas, 1115 Banyan Way, Pacifica, is a seventh grade student at Crespi School in Pacifica while Steve Mikesell, 113 Acacia, San Carlos, is a seventh grade student at Central Grammar School in San Carlos.

Lonya Wycoff, 247 Trenton Dr., San Bruno, is a ninth grade student at Crestmoor High School.

Over 100 essays were submitted by students in the San Carlos area; nearly 200 from the Pacifica-Half Moon Bay area; and over 100 from the San Bruno area for a record total in San Mateo Country of nearly 400 entries.

The Annual College Fund Essay Contest is presented by Eureka Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Second and third place winners in each of the three communities receive savings accounts of 1100 and $50, respectively.

In San Carlos, second place was awarded to Nancy Nolan, 13, 2812 Tramanto Dr.; an eighth grade student at Tierra Linda Grammar School. Third place was given to Glenn Cernal, 12, 198 Fir Street; a seventh grade student at Central Grommar School.

Second place in San Bruno went to Emma Hill, 14, 772 Second Avenue, a ninth grade student at Crestmoor High School. Third place was awarded to Barry Newton, 13, 315 Palomar Court; an eighth grade student at Parkside School.

In the Pacifica-Half Moon Bay area, second place was awarded to Raquel Montenegro, 1085 Banyan Way, Pacifica, a ninth grade student at Terra Nova High School. Third place went to Marc Hoover, 12, 544 Vista Mar, Pacifica; a seventh grade student at San Andreas School.

A total of nearly 3000 essays were submitted in separate College Fund Essay Contests sponsored by Eureka Federal Savings in seven Bay Area communities, including San Francisco, Los Gatos-Saratoga, Fremont-Newark and Santa Rosa, outside San Mateo County.

Highlight of the Awards Banquet was the presentation of the "President's Trophy" to one of the seven first place winners "for the best essay in the Bay Area."

The trophy, plus a $250 savings account and $250 in cash for the student's school for its favorite project, went to 13-year-old David Salcedo, an eighth grade student at James Lick Junior High School in San Francisco.

The theme of this year's 500-words or less essay competition selected by educators was "The Role and Responsibilities of the Teen-Ager in Today's World."

The Annual College Fund Essay Contests, which have been growing in student participation and community interest with each succeeding year, are part of the firm's year around community activities and education programs and are designed to stimulate the interest of young people in the problems and affairs of their cities.

CRAIG M. STAAS, 12, of Pacifica, with dictionary, is congratulated by (left to right) state Senator Milton Marks, San Francisco, a guest speaker; Craig's mother Mrs. Bea Staas; sister Mrs. Betty Jo Ellis and Kenneth L. Kidwell, president of Eureka Federal Savings and Loan Association, upon winning area College Fund essay honors.

LONYAN WYCOFF, 14, ninth-grade student at Crestmoor High School, won a $150 savings account and a handsome dictionary when her essay was selected as the best from over 100 entries in the Fifth Annual College Fund Essay Contest for sixth through ninth grade students in the San Bruno area. Presenting Lonyan with first place award are William Schneider (left), president of the San Bruno Chamber of Commerce, essay judge; and Harvey Brenner, manager of Eureka Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Santa Will Tour SSF December 23

If you see a man dressed in red, yelling ho, ho, ho, riding in a Sleigh Jeep escorted by a Reindeer Scooter passing in front of your home Monday, December 23, don't be alarmed.

Santa Claus makes his 13th Annual Tour of the City as part of the South San Francisco Recreation and Parks Department's Christmas Holiday program. Santa Claus, Sleigh Jeep, and Reindeer Scooter will be traveling the city's streets as they head for visits with children on the City's Parks and Playgrounds.

The tour will start at approximately 10 a.m. and head towards Peck's Lots, stopping by the Hillside Recreation Center at 10:45 a.m. for a brief visit. Next on the agenda will be in the area of Sunshine Gardens with a stop planned at Sunshine Gardens School Playground.

TIPS ON HOW TO TAKE CARE OF YOUR CARPET

VACUUM FREQUENTLY. How frequently will depend upon the traffic in your room and the cleanliness of the air where you live. Carpet should be thoroughly vacuumed at least once a week, using long, slow strokes to remove lint, dirt, loose soil. Caution: Do not use a vacuum cleaner brush having a serrated tooth metal comb on loop pile rugs. This type of comb is suitable only on cut pile carpet.

REMOVE SPOTS IMMEDIATELY. Go into action as soon as something is spilled. In many cases, cold water and a sponging will remove stains. If a spot or spill dries, it becomes "set" and is difficult to remove.

HOW TO REMOVE SPOTS. Gently brush pile. For fruit juices, soft drinks, tea, coffee, alcoholic beverages, candy, egg, milk, ice cream and chocolate, absorb liquid quickly and scrape off semi-solids. Apply solution of 1 teaspoonfull of powdered detergent to ½ pint of lukewarm water. Then sponge with water and dry the carpet.

For stains caused by shoe or furniture polish, chewing gum, eye makeup, tar, wax grease, butter or cooking oil, remove excess material and apply a dry cleaning fluid but use sparingly to avoid excessive dampening.

For ink, lipstick and rouge stains, do the same as in the above paragraph but afterwards use a detergent solution, then sponge with water and dry the carpet.

NEIGHBOR HELPS

Scrappy Young Wife Battles With Intruder

The loud screams of a terrified, but scrappy 18-year-old San Bruno housewife early Friday attracted the assistance of a neighbor who blocked the escape of a truck driver who assertedly had been terrorizing the pretty young woman.

San Bruno police said the suspect, Robert Eugene Taylor, 23, of 883 Huntington Avenue, San Bruno, was apprehended by patrolmen as he was perched atop the garage of the victim's home.

The authorities said Taylor climbed on top of the garage after Kenneth W. Marr, 28, started up the stairway to the woman's home in response to her screams, cutting off Taylor's escape.

The victim's husband was at work.

Police said it was 2:10 a.m. when the young woman, asleep in her bedroom, awakened and saw a pair of stocking feet standing in the doorway.

She began screaming.

Swings Guitar

Jumping off her bed, she grabbed a nearby guitar and smashed it into the stomach of the man.

A police department spokesma praised Marr for his quick response to the victim's screams.

The victim, who was unharmed physically, called police herself while the suspect was fleeing the home.

The suspect, police said, grabbed the woman and told her to "shut up! shut up!"

She continued to scream.

"Shut up, or I'll strangle you," the man told the woman, according to police.

The assailant then threw her back onto her bed, police say.

Fights Back

But the young woman fought back, finally throwing him from the bed, and she dashed to another bedroom where her baby was sleeping.

The suspect started to flee, but Marr was blocking his way down the stairway, the authorities said, so he climbed atop the garage, where he stayed under the watchful eyes of Marr until police arrived.

Police said the suspect had entered the home through an unlocked kitchen window after climbing up a porch railing to the garage roof.

Taylor was booked by San Bruno police on burglary and attempted rape charges.

"He was the key in the whole thing. We need more people like Mr. Marr," the policeman said.

Taylor, who apparently is known by both the victim and her husband, had removed his shoes and jacket, placing his wallet in the pocket before entering the home, police say. The items were found on the porch by the police.

CSM Faculty Asks Delay For Skyline

The governing council of College of San Mateo's Faculty Senate voted Thursday to oppose plans for opening new Skyline College in San Bruno next fall.

In announcing the action to district trustees that night during their meeting at CSM, Anita Lehman, council secretary, said the teachers' governing body felt that putting Skyline College into operation as now scheduled "would only add to the present financial problems of the district."

Her statement came shortly after the trustees approved releasing Philip Garlington as CSM dean of instruction on January 1 to assume full-time duties as Skyline's president and awarded two key contracts in the new campus construction project.

It also followed closely upon the heels of a pledge by the new chancellor-superintendent of the district, Clifford G. Erickson, who was participating in his first trustees' meeting last night that "regardless of what happened at the polls (referring to defeat of the district bond proposal last month), there will be no welching on the commitment to open Skyline College in September."

"I see nothing in sight that would deter us from proceeding on that timetable," Erickson had told reporters just a week ago, "and I will bend every effort to try to assure that no new deterrent emerges to alter present plans."

The two Skyline construction contracts awarded by the board last night were for installation of site utilities and installation of laboratory equipment.

Questioned by Francis Pearson Jr., president of the trustees, Mrs. Lehman said 10 members of the governing council, which represents more than 300 CSM teachers, participated in the vote. Five members, she added, balloted to oppose the September opening, three were in favor of proceeding with the present schedule and two abstained.

Erickson pointed out that it is still too early to evaluate all the vital financial implications of the district for the 1969-70 fiscal year. "We don't have even a tentative budget put together yet, and we won't for another two or three months," he said.

Trustees U.S. Simonds Jr. added: "We have a commitment to the people of the North County who are going to be served by this new college, even though we realize we face some awfully rough sledding financially. The taxpayers have notified us by the ballot that their support is going to be limited."

Garlinton's appointment to the Skyline presidency as of January 1 — a month earlier than earlier anticipated — was approved to permit him to begin work on getting the campus ready to open in September, recruiting personnel, planning curriculums and co-ordinating programs with CSM and new Canada College, which opened this fall in Redwood City.

Both contracts were termed "extremely favorable" by Matteo V. Fasanaro, assistant superintendent for business affairs.

The site utilities job was awarded to three firms — Underground Construction Co., Kennedy Electric Co. and O.K. Construction Co. — at an overall figure of $363,840. That total is well below a low bid rejected by the board two months ago and also below a revised estimate submitted subsequently by the project engineers.

The lease-purchase contract for the lab equipment went to Taylor Manufacturing Co. at a total district expense of $182,100. The architect's estimate had been $220,000.

DALY CITY TOURNEY

The Daly City Recreation Department and the Better Youth Association are presenting the Second Annual Tim McGillicuddy Memorial Christmas Tournament beginning today and running through December 21.

Once again, some of the best teams in the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades throughout the area are to be featured in the double elimination tournament.

The following is a schedule summary including teams entering, gymnasiums utilized, and dates of play:

WESTBOROUGH

Plan to Work OutStalemate In South S.F.

A plan for resolving the stalemate that has delayed construction of the Westborough Boulevard cross-county expressway was worked out by South San Francisco and county officials at lunch last week.

It was agreed that engineers for the two jurisdictions will meet to look for a solution to the major problem—the question of whether or not the road project will create flood hazards.

Meanwhile, other officials will try to work out two lesser problems—the question of who will buy the land for a pedestrian overpass, and a question about barring access to the expressway from private properties.

Meet at Chartier

Meeting at the Villa Chartier in San Mateo were three members of the County Board of Supervisors—James V. Fitzgerald, Jean Fassler and Robert St. Clair—City Councilman Andrew Rocca and City Attorney John Noonan of South San Francisco, County Engineer Don S. Wilson and two members of his staff, S. H. Cantwell and Robert Sands.

The stalemate has developed over the insistence of the city that the responsibility for maintenance of the drainage structure planned as a part of the project be turned over to the Colma Creek Flood Control District. The county has been equally insistent that the responsibility should be the city's.

At the request of the city, and at the city's expense, Twelve Mile Creek is to be channeled under the roadway in a culvert. Noonan told the conferees Tuesday that the city fears that the concentrated volume of water might cause occasional flooding. If that happens, he said, the entire area which contributes water to the creek should bear the liability. That area is within the boundaries of the flood control district.

"Won't Cause Floods"

County officials, however, insist that the road work itself will not increase the volume of water or cause any flood problems. They have taken the position that the city, because it asked for the culvert, should bear the future responsibility for it, at least until a comprehensive flood control project for the entire district has been undertaken.

It was agreed at the meeting last week that the differences in engineering opinion will be discussed at staff level. The county board and the city council will then decide, on the basis of the engineers' report, whether further compromises can be made or whether the project should be abandoned for the time being.

Supervisor Robert St. Clair declared that if the engineers fail to agree, he would favor withdrawing funds for Westborough Boulevard and spending the money on some other project.

Sunday School Program Set

The annual Sunday school program of the Westside Baptist Church, Inverness Drive and Hickey Boulevard, Pacifica, will be presented at 6:30 p.m. Sunday.

The theme this year is "The Message of the Bells."

Boys and girls, three years of age through the eighth grade, will participate, under direction of Supt. Jim McDaniels.

The high school youth will present a play "A Kosher Christmas" to close the evening.

Those in the cast are Mrs. Lynetta Corley, Miss Diane Swedberg, Marion Hillerstrom, and Juanita Fogelstrom and Lois Nakano, Moses Hernandez, George Bradley, Bob Swedberg, Jim and David Pollock, Paul Donnelly and Roger Hillerstrom.

Pastor A. David Donnelly will give a Christmas devotional thought. Special music will be featured throughout the evening. At the close of the program, a special treat will be given every boy and girl in attendance.

Sunday at the 11 a.m. worship hour, Paston Donnelly will have as his sermon topic, "Past, Present, Future."

Roy King will be the featured soloist, with Mrs. Roy King at the organ.

During the worship hour, a Primary Church service is to be conducted for boys and girls, four through seven years of age.

Three adult Sunday school classes will meet at 9:45 a.m. There is a college class also, and Pastor Donnelly will conduct his pastor's class during that hour. The other Sunday school classes will be busy in last-minute practice for the evening program.

Saturday at 8 a.m., the Men's Prayer Fellowship is to meet at the church parsonage, 3370 Longview Drive, San Bruno.

Saturday evening from 7 to 10 p.m. the Junior High CYF will have a Christmas party, sponsored by their advisors, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Corley.

Bandits Tote A Shotgun In Hold-up

Four men, one armed with a shotgun, held up a South San Francisco service station on Sunday night.

Police said the men forced attendant Manuel Guajardo to hand over cash register receipts at the Union 76 station at 901 Airport Boulevard.

The four robbers, all described as Negro male adults, entered the station on foot about 11:50 p.m. One of the men produced a shotgun from beneath his coat, and ordered Guajardo into the office.

After looting the cash register, the robbers ordered Guajardo to open a safe in the office, but left after he told them he did not have the key.

Three teen-aged bandits, one brandishing a blue-steel, six-inch revolver, held up Conci's Shell service station in Daly City Saturday, taking $105 in company receipts and $89 from the attendant.

And on Sunday, three men — all driving different cars — attempted to hold up the Valley Chevron station, but apparently were frightened off and they got nothing.

One of the three men driving into the Valley Chevron, at 2690 Bayshore, reportedly simulated a hand gun before the trio fled south of Bayshore in separate cars without robbing the station.

Mother Leads Five Tots to Safety

A South San Francisco mother rounded up her five young children and led them to safety Friday, as fire of undetermined origin raged through a bedroom of her home.

The mother, Mrs. Joyce Pasco, was in the kitchen preparing dinner at 4:49 p.m., according to a spokesman for State Division of Forestry firemen, when two of her children dashed in to say the master bedroom of the Pasco home at 259 Alta Vista Drive was ablaze.

Mrs. Pasco, whose husband, William, was not at home, quickly investigated, got all of the youngsters together, and took them outside to a car.

South San Francisco firemen, responding to the call, saw flames shooting out the broken window of the front bedroom.

"When we got there," a South San Francisco fire official noted, "Mrs. Pasco had the youngsters out and there were flames coming out the front bedroom window."

The South San Francisco units had succeeded in extinguishing the blaze and were starting overhaul when Division of Forestry units arrived.

The Pasco home is located in a portion of the Brentwood tract, about three blocks from the Brentwood Shopping Center, that has never been incorporated, and it receives basic fire protection from the Division of Forestry.

The fire itself was contained in the bedroom, but there was smoke damage throughout, firemen said.

The loss was estimated at $2,000.

Mrs. Pasco aided in the confinement of the fire to the bedroom by slamming shut the front door of the house as she exited with her children, firemen declared.

A BOMB THREAT

A bomb, reported by an unknown male caller, failed to materialize Sunday in the mall of the Serramonte Shopping Center.

Daly City police said a unit from their department searched the area, including trash cans, near the Montgomery Ward store, but were unable to find a bomb.

Patrolmen who responded dumped the grenade into a tub of water, then called a detail from the Presidio of San Francisco to disarm it.

Dogs Join D.C. Stolen Car Chase

A young Daly City man was arrested on an automobile theft charge and outstanding theft warrants totalling more than $14,000 early this morning after a chase in the Crocker Hills area.

Police said Alphonso Roundtree, 23, was arrested at 3:45 a.m. after officers from Daly City, Brisbane and Broadmoor and sheriff's deputies pursued a stolen car into the wooded area off Guadalupe Canyon Road.

Dogs from the sheriff's department were used in the chase, according to Daly City officers.

An unidentified companion who was in the car with Roundtree escaped on foot, police said.

Daly City officers spotted the two men speeding on Mission Street in the stolen car, and police from the other cities responded to a mutual aid call.

Bob Miller, installation officer, views plaque presented outgoing president Sandra Sacha as testimonial of "sincere appreciation" for her work as president of the Pacifica - Coastside Board of Realtors during 1968, as newly installed president John Geary looks on. The key word of Geary's hopes for 1969 is "Work" for the realtors of the area, the new president declared at the group's sixth annual Christmas dinner-dance Friday night in Pacifica. (Post Photo)

Capaci Quits At Pacifica

Pacifica Building Inspector Jack Capaci announced his resignation from the post, effective February 1, City Manager C. W. Masonheimer said.

Capaci, who has served as building inspector in Pacifica for six years, is resigning to accept a post in anothercity,Masonheimersaid.

Capaci, who has served as building inspector in Pacifica for six years, is resigning to accept a post in another city, Maenheimer said.

A new building inspector will be accepted from a list of eligible applicants now on file in the city.

San Pedro Man Struck By Car, Dies in D.C.

A San Pedro man visiting in Daly City was struck by an automobile and killed instantly Friday night whikle crossing the rainswept intersection of Alemany Boulevard and Dorchester.

Richard William Rogers, 48, of 2023 Summerland, San Pedro, was pronounced dead upon arrival at Mary's Help Hospital shortly after the accident occurred at 1:20 a.m. today.

Police said Rogers was crossing Alemany on foot when he was struck by a car driven by Joseph Speckman, 20, of 27 Northridge, Daly City.

The incident is still under investigation, police said. No citation was issued.

The Southern California man was visiting in the home of a friend here, according to police, and had been in Daly City about two days.

Friday night a San Francisco man was injured in a two-car accident at the intersection of Allen and MacDonald Street.

Hung T. Tse, 28, of 2500 Phelps, was taken to Mary's Help Hospital by Mercy Ambulance for treatment of chest injuries after the wreck occurred at 6:45 p.m.

Tse's vehicle collided at the intersection with another car driven by Ronald E. Cabrera, 21, also of San Francisco.

Gun Stolen In San Bruno

San Bruno resident Terrence Phillips reported to police last Tuesday the theft of a pistol from his home sometime during the day.

According to San Bruno police, burglars entered the Phillips home at 449 Pine Street sometime between 7 a.m. and 5 p.m. by prying open a back door.

Leaving other valuables, the burglars took a chrome-plated 45-caliber semi - automatic pistol from the master bedroom.

S.S.F. Housing Plan Studied

South San Francisco councilmen are studying a new "housing element" in the city's general plan recommended for adoption last month by the planning commission.

Required by a new state law which takes effect July 1, 1969, the housing element is designed to "promote orderly growth and development, provide guidelines for improvement in local housing, and building sites for future housing," according to City Planner Daniel Pass.

The new state law specifies that each California city must include a housing element which "identifies housing problems, sets community goals and indicates probable solutions to identified problems."

In addition, the housing element must provide a detailed work program for preparation of a complete housing plan for all economic segments of the community, "in accordance with the desires and needs of the community."

Public hearings were held before the planning commission last month to "obtain community suggestions" on the housing element, Pass said.

Fatal Crash On Jammed Bayshore

A Daly City youth died on Thursday from injuries received in a multi-car collision on Bayshore freeway Wednesday.

James R. Greene, 18, son of Mrs. Doris O. Tyree, 191 Morningside Drive, Daly City, died at 2:20 a.m. at Peninsula Hospital.

He had been admitted after the 12:46 p.m. crash Wednesday with multiple chest, pelvis, and head injuries, and was first listed as being in critical condition.

Later, said hospital aides, his condition slipped to "poor."

Highway Patrol officers said the crash occurred just inside the San Francisco county line.

Also injured in the same crash, which reportedly involved 16 to 18 cars and tied up both sides of the freeway for up to an hour, were two others.

Coast Fugitive Is Arrested On Warrant

A young Pacifica man charged with a variety of offenses in connection with last July's Linda Mar Shopping Center riots has been arrested at South Lake Tahoe and returned here to face charges, police revealed.

Pacifica Police Capt. Al Tebaldi said 19-year-old Danny Ring, charged with disturbing the peace, refusing to disperse and resisting arrest during the shopping center disturbances, was picked up last week on a warrant issued by authorities here.

In addition to the charges stemming from the Pacifica disturbance, Ring is being held on parole violation warrants issued in San Mateo and San Diego.

He is being held without bail, according to Tebaldi.

Ring was one of 35 persons arrested during the two-day shopping center riot.

Christmas Tree Display In Daly City

With the theme "Christmas around the World", the First National Bank of Daly City announces that decorations and Christmas trees will be for display on Thursday, December 19 and everyone in the community is invited to visit each of the bank's four offices, see the lovely and different decorations and enjoy a holiday treat. An open house will take place in each bank during banking hours on Thursday, December 19; Friday, 20; Monday, 23 and Tuesday, 24th.

There will be a Pinata and gay Mexican decorations at the South San Francisco office located at 211 South Airport Boulevard. At 7 p.m. on Friday evening, December 20, everyone is invited to a special Christmas Fiesta. Parents bring your children. Your child may be the lucky one to break the Pinata full of goodies.

In Pacifica, the First National Bank, located in the Eureka Shopping Center, will show how Denmark decorates for Christmas.

In Daly City, the Skyline Plaza office will say "Froeliche Weihrachten" and the Tannenbaum will be beautifully decorated as this branch celebrates with a German Christmas.

The main office of the First National Bank, located at 6600 Mission Street in Daly City, will celebrate an Italian Christmas. There will be a "Presepio" and special holiday treats.

The First National Bank, the Family Bank, cordially invites its family of friends in Pacifica, South San Francisco and Daly City to visit each office this Christmas season and enjoy the decorations and learn how Christmas is celebrated around the world, for although the customs may vary from country to country, Christmas is a homecoming day, a family day, with simple religious devotions and with special feastings.

Rough Night For Boaters

Pacifica firemen kept watch all night on Friday over two boaters in distress off San Pedro Point.

Firemen and Coastguard spokesmen said two unidentified men in a 28-foot converted whaleboat pulled into San Pedro Bay in hevy seas about 6:30 p.m., and dropped anchor.

Heavy surf prevented the boaters from coming ashore, and authorities were fearful that the small boat, which had no radio or running lights, might crash into rocks.

The anchor appeared to be dragging on bottom, according to fire department spokesmen.

The boat pulled away under its own power after seas calmed about 7 a.m. today.

"They spent a rough night out there," a fire department spokesman said.

Cash Is Stolen

Some $50 in cash was stolen from the Muffler Mart, 1971 Junipero Serra Boulevard, after a burglar smashed through a rear window, Daly City police report.

New Facility At Airport Is Dedicated

Ceremonies recently dedicated Pan American's new $3,000,000 cargo terminal building at San Francisco International Airport.

Largest facility of its kind on the West Coast, the cargo terminal is located on the service road north of the main airport entrance.

It is designed to handle Pan Am's growing air cargo traffic to the Pacific, the Orient, South America, and over the pole to Europe. Floor space would provide room for two football fields, with more than 101,000 square feet of area.

With adjacent service areas covering seven and one-half acres, the cargo terminal will be used to load and unload Pan Am's fleet of Boeing 707s, and for the huge 747s due next year.

The latest mechanized gear, capable of handling containerized shipments quickly, is incorporated in the structure, and there is a livestock room with temperature and humidity controls.

U.S. Customs officers will be headquartered at the Pan Am building because of the large volume of overseas freight handled by the airline.

At present, Pan Am handles 17,000,000 pounds of cargo and mail at San Francisco International Airport each month.

Nude in Pink Car Observed

Two red-faced Colma residents complained to Daly City police Saturday that a man with a mustache was driving around in a pink car — nude.

Color TV Stolen From Daly City

Allan Boutte of 105 Los Banos, Daly City, reported to police the theft of a 14-inch portable color television set from his residence.

Broadmoor Church

Combined Choirs Set Performance Of Yule Pageant

The combined choirs of Broadmoor Presbyterian Church will present their annual Christmas pageant of music on Sunday at 7 p.m.

Set in two parts, the first of which will be in the church sanctuary, and the second in the social hall, the program will depict the Christmas story according to the second chapter of Luke in song and word.

Following the more formal portion of the musical evening, a processional of choirs and audience will descend to the social hall for a continuing program of more lighthearted participative nature.

Three choirs will sing during the evening — the tiny Cherubs, from nursery school age to the outgrowth of their little robes; the junior choir, embracing youngsters through junior high age; and the adult or Chancel Choir, from high school age to indeterminate longevity.

The Cherubs are under the direction of Dorothy Spratt, and are accompanied by Marilyn Mattson. Guiding the juniors is Barbara Greeno, with Charlene Sigler as accompanist.

The adults are under music director David Frankenberger. Carl Eagle is the church organist, at the console of the Margaret Pauline Brown Memorial organ.

Just five years old last November, the organ is named in honor of a pioneer Daly City civic, education, and church leader, Mrs. Margaret Pauline Brown, a former member of Broadmoor Presbyterian Church.

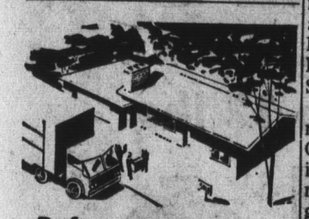
According to Gregory Lum, tenor and president of the Chancel Choir, the program will follow the scripture of Luke in three parts, intertwining the choirs with congregational singing. Narrating the Christmas story will be basses Ken Tonnissen and Louis Haan, and tenor Paul Smith. Giving the announcements and receiving the offering will be tenor Ken Gillespie.

Chancel Choir anthe ms to be presented include "To Us A Child Is Born," the traditional "Coventry Carol," two modern anthems, "The Mother's Name Was Many" and "Masters In This Hall," and the triumphant prophecy of Isaiah from Handel's "Messiah," and "The Glory of The Lord."

In the less formal program, with audience and choir participation, "Jingle Bells," the new carol "Do You Hear?", "Carol of the Drum," and "We Wish You a Merry Christmas" will be presented, in addition to Christmas rounds and fun songs.

The Rev. Herbert Tweedie, pastor of the 89th Street Church, invites the general public to the Sunday evening concert, member or not, since, "the music is to be shared, the fellowship and spirit of friendliness that is so beautifully exemplified by the Christmas time are never to be kept within the confines of a congregation, ever."

Tweedie said the past two years are anniversaries of several of the church's more popular Christmas carols.



Before you move in know the facts about insurance

Fact 1: Fire insurance alone on home and contents is not enough. Your home could be destroyed by windstorm, explosion or other hazard.

Fact 2: Theft coverage of your possessions, at home and away, should be included.

Fact 3: A lawsuit judgment against you could cost you everything you own. You need liability insurance.

Fact 4: You get all this and more in one Homeowners policy...with one low premium!

Story of Chanukah A 'Miracle by Itself'

By Rabbi S.A. Shore

Very few generations have ever succeeded in celebrating Chanukah in their own land as free men and women the way 2½ million citizens of Israel do today.

The story of Chanukah is a miracle by itself; a lesson to all generations whose love for one's land and devotion to one's way of life is a mighty force.

The struggle for survival and our great concern for the perpetuation of our Jewish way of life has been manifest throughout history. In spite of the fact that as a people we have been dispersed on every continent, we placed hope in the Hebrew phrase "l'shana habaha" (next year).

The feeling of "hope, rather than hopelessness" has kept us alive and has nurtured our thoughts and our inner souls to always strengthen our hope that tomorrow will be more beautiful, more peaceful than today with the words "Ani Maamin" (I believe).

Millions of Jews come Chanukah this year, will display the Menorah in their windows, expressing their solidarity with all their bretheran all over the world, that we are one people and one religion and one culture binds us all in one national union.

While the holiday of Chanukah has always been regarded as a national holiday rather than as a religious one, let us all be remindful of its history, as it happened over two thousand years ago. Greece and its mighty legions were the dominant influence in that part of the world. The neighboring countries that surrounded ancient Israel were merely agents and vassels of that great power.

Greece not only subjugated all the people o the Middle East politically, they also tried hard to subjugate them culturally as well as religiously. The influence of Greek culture and know-how became a dominant factor and the Arabic world yielded to their demands.

One small nation, however, refused to abandon its great culture and its well-established social order; rather than to yield ground they decided to fight and bravely they appeared on the field of battle.

We all know the heroic stand of the Maccabees and their final victory; the story of Chanukah every year refreshes our memory of days gone by. History has repeated itself after a period of two thousand years. Once again two and a half million of our brethren are the inhabitants of modern Israel. The posotical influence of animosity toward our people over there today stems from Russia, who like the Greeks of yesteryear, are out to weaken our independence and our freedom. Once again our Arabic neghbors act as agents resolved to destroy what we have won in three succissive wars.

Let us hold on to the philosophy of "Ani Maamin" — we firmly believethat some dav, and we hope that day will come soon, peace and tranquility will reign in that part of the world once again.

Chanukah Service Friday

Congregation B'nai Israel will observe the eight-day holiday of Chanukah at sabbath services on Friday at 8:30 p.m.

Services will be conducted by Rabbi Solomon A. Shore and Cantor Henry Greenberg, assisted by students of the Hebrew school.

Appearing in the Service and the Chanukah program to follow are Terri Gordon and Donna Sublow, candlelighting, and Alan Levy, who will assist the Cantor with the Kiddush.

Also on the program are readers June Arbitter, Marian Fisher, Sharon Gordon, Eduardo Heckscher, Craig Maxwell, Nathaniel Pava, Leonard Rose, Larry Stein, Harriet Weiner and David Zyski.

Hebrew readers are Gail Clarfield, Rachel and Stephen Dobrow, Kenneth Frucht, Michael and Russell Lemesh, Billy Papelbaum, Leslie Schwarzbach, Doreen Steinberg and Helen Weinrit.

Students of the Aleph Class will perform the blessing of the Chanukah Lights. They are Mark Cleaner, Glen Feld, Audrey Fox, Sandra Frucnt, David Levy, Ruth Mordokowicz, Glen Sennett, Martin Stone and Samuel Wright.

The Men's Club of Congregation B'nai Israel will hold a breakfast meeting on Sunday, at the Serra Bowl in Colma.

President Julius Michaelis announced that the newly elected officers will be introduced and plans for the coming year will be discussed.

Breakfast will begin at 10:15 a.m. and will be followed by the short meeting.

Hope Lutheran Church Sets Special Christmas Services

Hope Lutheran Church, 55 San Fernando Way, Daly City, will begin its schedule of special Christmas services and programs with the annual Sunday School Christmas program, Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

In the words of recitations and Christmas carols, the children will tell the Christmas story.

On Sunday, the children's choir will present a program of Christmas music, beginning at 7 p.m.

On Christmas at 11 p.m., a candlelight service of song will be held.

During this service, all worshipers receive a small candle, after which all other lights are extinguished, during the singing of "Silent Night".

A service will also be held on Christmas Day, at 11 a.m.

On December 29th, the 11 a.m. service will be a Christmas Folk-Mass.

The 8:30 a.m. service will follow the traditional order of service.

Coast Sodality To Meet Today

The next meeting of the Altar Rosary Sodality of the Church of the Good Shepherd Pacifica will be held today.

This will be the Sodality's Christmas party. All members are urged to take canned goods and staples to be used for St. Vincent de Paul's Christmas baskets.

Webster Pupils' Program Today

The children of Daniel Webster School in Daly City will present their annual holiday show at 1 p.m. today in the multi-use room.

Each class from kindergarten through the sixth grade will participate.

Foster's Fruit Cakes Holiday Specials

A bucket of chicken for five is just $3.75 at Foster's Farm-Fried Chicken House in San Mateo. The bucket includes 14 pieces of chicken, 10 fluffy biscuits and a pint of gravy. Open seven days a week from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. Foster's is also having a gigantic special on holiday fruit cakes.

Dinners in the Mediterranean tradition, as well as Italian specialties, are served at Dell'Osso's, the beautiful, new restaurant on Ninth Avenue and South Claremont in San Mateo. Executive Chef here is Vincent Dell'Osso, who gained his culinary fame at Original Joe's in San Francisco.

Scotty Campbell's will have their traditional New Year's Eve celebration with all the entertaining trimmings. This spirited Redwood City fun restaurant is a natural site for bringing in the New Year. You provide the floor show; "Blackie," the bartender, will tend to the mixing of beverages and the "master of ceremonies" duties. Make reservations now if you'd like to join the "house party."

You can bet that the Exposition Fish Grotto's Sil Oliva, an ardent boxing fan, was concerned with the outcome of Tuesday night's heavyweight boxing championship. Sil feels that winner Joe Frazier is an excellent boxer, but not really a match for many of the past ring greats.

With the crab season "cracking away," the crowds at Vince's Italian and Sea Food restaurant are as they should be — endless. Crab and Shrimp Louies are big favorites during luncheon and dinner hours at this Fisherman's Wharf on the Peninsula spot.

Stickney's For All Occasions

With accommodations available for groups of 30 to 300 persons, Stickney's of San Mateo offers the ultimate for Holiday entertaining. No detail is overlooked when booking your special parties at Stickney's. Banquet facilities at the San Mateo restaurant include a private bar and dance floor, with complete full course dinners from $3.50, festive buffets from $3.25, hors d'oeuvres and canapes. If you desire entertainment for your party, this, too, can be arranged. Stickney's special Holiday Buffet, including hors d'oeuvres and wine, is just $4.50. Robert Hoffmeyer, general manager of Stickney's of San Mateo, located in the Fifth Avenue Center Building, will be delighted to show you through one of the Bay Area's finest restaurants. Stickney's also takes pride in their bakery division. Orders are taken for pastries and cakes for home parties, as well as mince and pumpkin pie orders. There's ample free parking directly behind the restaurant with elevators to the banquet room.

San Mateo's Villa Chartier, "home of Emerson Murfee," has always been one of the banquet bonanza sites for families on the Peninsula. There are nine party rooms from which to choose for your special functions; special menus are prepared for all occasions. The neighboring Lanai restaurant, which offers an intriguing Island atmosphere, also invites your banquet reservations. For those special holiday packages and entertaining at home, the Lanai Liquor Store can easily accommodate any party requirement.

Happy Birthday Mary Ann Hay

Friday the thirteenth wasn't unlucky for Mary Ann Hay, popular vocalist at Nick's in Rockaway Beach, Pacifica—it was her birthday. When they wrote the song, "Smiles," they must have had Mary Ann in mind. All during the years your Bright Lighter has known this lovely lady of song, not once has she been minus a winning smile. Nor has she hesitated to pass along a word of encouragement to anyone in need. Stop in this ocean front restaurant during the evening and lend an ear to Mary Ann's version of songs new and old, accompanied by organist Jim Payer or the Del Carlo Combo.

Park Avenue Tours Travel Packages

No lull in the Park Avenue Tours "Nevada Fun Packages." Snow is a double attraction for those planning an exciting time in Lake Tahoe (South Shore) via air, Greyhound Bus, or driving. A generous refund awaits travelers who select the Park Avenue Tours as their travel agents. Messers. Jerry Barber, Charles Palmer, and Robert King are in charge of the transportation plan.

One of the busiest hair and beard trim shops on the Peninsula is the new barber shop which recently opened at the Holiday Inn, South San Francisco. Located across from the Holiday's main entrance, the shop is part of the ambitious expansion program initiated by the Rapp Brothers, Fred and Jerry, who are the South San Francisco "Inn" keepers.

The Fireside Lounge is now featuring its latest "Space Revue" — which has to be one of the most unusual performances this San Mateo bistro has come up with yet. Where Owner Phil Maita finds the talent and "props" for his shows is past imagination. Ten Topless beauties make up the package. Entertainment seven nights a week.

THE ROBERT ROSSES (Diane Gugino)

Diane Gugino, Robert Ross Wed at Home in Fresno

At home in Fresno after a wedding trip to Yosemite are Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Ross who were married recently at St. Timothy's Church in San Mateo.

The bride is the former Diane Patricia Gugino, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gugino of Daly City. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Ross of Lindsay.

Mary Gugino of Norfolk, Va. was her cousin's maid of honor and Dona Edlund of Burlingame was the matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Toni Galli of South San Francisco and Sue Murphy of Daly City. Christina Taylor was the flower girl.

Yoshi Suko of Lindsay was Robert's best man. Guests were seated by Jim Tuttle, Roger Bunch, Dick Donaldson, Ken Charshaf, and Doug Franklin.

A reception followed at the Elks Club.

Diane attended Mercy High School in Burlingame. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Lofaso.

Robert attended Lindsay High School and Fresno State College. He has a sister, Evelyn Ross.

SSF Pre-School Program Will Start January 13

The South San Francisco Recreation and Parks Department will begin the winter session of its pre-school program January 13, at the Orange Memorial Park Recreation Building.

The pre-school program, initiated last year because of heavy community interest, is open to all children from 3½ years through five years of age.

South San Francisco residents pay $10 for the nine week session if thier child comes once a week; the fee is arranged accordingly if the child comes more often.

Out of city residents pay a slightly higher fee.

Among the activities scheduled are crafts, music, games, dance, rhythm bands, story time, "Show and Tell," nature walks, refreshments, and special seasonal events. The program is considered to be mainly a social and emotional preparation for school for both the child and the mother. The instructors are Michelle Markowski and Virginia Hayne, both previous teachers in the program.

Pre-registration is required of all enrollees January 8, 9, and 10, between the hours of 10 a.m. and noon at the Orange Memorial Park Recreation Budiling. The fee is payable at that time.

TIES TO MATCH

Shirts and ties will be as popular as ever for Christmas gift giving this season. A matching set in a striped pattern takes all the worry out of selecting the right tie to go with the right shirt.

DALY CITY

A Christmas Festival Set

The annual Daly City Christmas Festival, sponsored by the Recreation Department, will be held on Thursday at the War Memorial Community Center, 6655 Mission Street.

Festivities will start at 7:45 p.m. with a musical prelude by the Daly City Community Chorus, under direction of Dennis Desjardins.

Selections will include such favorites as "Do You Hear What I Hear?" and "Silent Night."

Dance and gymnastic students under direction of Mrs. Kay Farrell and Mrs. Barbara Fitts will present an array of Christmas cheer and merriment.

Children from the city playgrounds and area Girl Scout troops will join in the holiday mood to present a poetic adaption of the well known story "How The Grinch Stole Christmas" by Dr. Seuss.

Pre-School Signups Set

Registration for the Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation Department's pre-school program is planned for January 6 at the Recreation Department office in City Hall.

Classes are tentatively scheduled as follows:

Fairmont Center, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday, 9 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. classes. Thursday, 12:30 p.m. class only.

Oddstad Center, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday, 9 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. classes; Thursday, 12:30 p.m. class only.

Children must be 3½ to five years of age at the time of registration. Class size is limited to 15 children and registration is taken on a first come, first served basis.

Fee for the 10-week program is $6.50.

KEEP CUFFS CLEAN

Businessmen who want to keep their shirt cuffs clean for an important lunch or even a dinner appointment should put a rubber band around each arm, like the old-fashioned sleeve garter, to keep the cuffs up and protected.

Youth of SDA Collect Food

The youth of the Pacifica Seventh-Day Adventist church were out with the witches and goblins Halloween night, but instead of "Treats," they collected canned food for the needy, and thanks to the generosity of the good people of Pacifica — 500 articles of food, 200 pounds of potatoes, and $14 were collected to benefit the local Thanksgiving and Christmas dinner baskets.

Chaperoned by eight adults, 16 children took part in the event.

Dance and Music Guild

Troubadors Again Entertain Patients

The "Troubadors of St. Francis Heights" are making several benefit stage appearances between now and Christmas Eve.

Mrs. Trudy Scanlon, director, St. Francis Heights Dance and Music Guild, home of "The Troubadors," said she has deliberately accepted the heavy pre-Christmas schedule because most of the shows are for shut-ins or underprivileged groups frequently by-passed at Christmas.

Said she, "We're going out with the intention of bringing as much Yuletide joy and happiness into as many hearts as possible. We'll take our own orchestra, song-and-dance ensemble, and a station wagon filled with gifts donated by our friends and neighbors. We shall have our own Santa Claus who will personally pass out gift packages at institutions such as Laguna Honda Home for the Aged and to the elderly patients at the Little Sisters of the Poor."

The benefit entertainments started Sunday with a show at the A. P. Gianinni High School auditorium, Thirty-ninth Avenue and Ortega, San Francisco, for members of Lithographers and Photoengravers International Union, Local 17-1, and their families. On Monday, December 16, "The Troubadors" will appear at Letterman Hospital in the San Francisco Presidio to perform for sick and wounded Vietnam military personnel.

Wednesday and Thursday, December 18-19, the South of Market Lions' Club is sponsoring two shows featuring "The Troubadors" for the benefit of Canon Kip Community House, Eighth and Natoma Streets, San Francisco.The Wednesday Show is for girl members of Canon Kip; Thursday for boys.

Friday night, December 20, the song-and-dance troupe appear at the Annual Yule Show sponsored by the United Commercial Travelers, at UCT Hall, nal Yule party.

On Saturday, December 21, oldsters at the Little Sisters of the Poor will see a stage show and be visited by Santa Claus; Sunday, December 22, "The Troubadors" are doing a 60-minute show for patients at Laguna Honda Home for the Aged and then help their own Santa distribute 750 gift packages to the elderly inmates. Immediately thereafter, they cross town to perform at the Verdi Club's annual Yule party.

SSF Social Dance Class Signup Urged

The South San Francisco Recreation and Park Department is offering Adult Social Dance Classes for beginning couples and intermediate couples starting January 8.

The beginner's class will be from 7:30-8:30 p.m. and the intermediate class from 8:45-9:45 p.m. at Orange Memorial Park Recreation Center.

The series will consist of seven weekly lessons covering the foxtrot, cha cha, swing, waltz, rumba and the pom pom.

Interested couples should register at the South San Francisco Recreation and Park Department offices, Grand and Magnolia Avenues, before January 8. The fee for the seven week series is $9 a couple.

Classes will be held on January 8, 15, 22, 29, February 5, 12 and 19.

The series is under the direction of Irene Weed Smith, a member of Dance Masters of Chicago, California Folk Dance Federation and the AAUW. She teaches in San Francisco.

Getting into a festive mood while making arrangements for The Last Happenin' 1968 — "Bells, Beads and Bouquets" are (left to right) Mrs. William Feeley, Mrs. Gabe Adami, Clyde Silverthorn and Mrs. John Breslin of Our Lady of Mercy parish in Daly City. The New Year's Eve party will be in the parish hall from 9 p.m., with Pete Maiorana providing the music. Refreshments, party favors and a midnight buffet are included. Mrs. Feeley is handling reservations.

THE DAVID PARENTIS (Linda Capella)

San Bruno Girl Is Wed in SSF

Wedding bells rang out this fall for a number of Peninsula couples. Among them are these . . . All Souls Catholic Church in South San Francisco was the setting for the recent wedding of Mr. and Mrs. David Paul Parenti (above, left). The couple is honeymooning in southern California and will make their home in South San Francisco. The bride is the former Linda Marie Capella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Capella of San Bruno. David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Parenti of South San Francisco . . .

They Start Today

Full Yule Activities' Slate in SSF

With Chrstmas and New Year's coming soon, the South San Francisco Recreation and Parks Department prepares for its numerous holiday activities which begin December 18 and conclude Saturday, January 4, 1969.

For the second year the Recreation and Park Department will sponsor a Christmas community sing-a-long at the West Orange Library Amphitheatre, Thursday, December 19 at 7 p.m. Band music and vocal groups will provide the background music and the community is invited to sing traditional Christmas carols with the participating groups.

Siebecker center tap dance program annual Christmas party will be held Wednesday, December 18 and Friday, December 20. Santa Claus will make a special appearance for both of these tap programs, which include skits out on by the participants.

Saturday, December 21, brings the school holiday programs into full swing. Avalon, Brentwood Park, Buri Buri Park, Foxridge, Orange Memorial Park, Hillside Center, Sera Vista, Sunshine Gardens and South City High School Gym will be open daily from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. with individual and team activities. El Camino High School gym will be open from 12 noon to 5 p.m. daily.

El Camino will hold a seventh and eighth grade basketball tournaments and South City High School will conduct a fifth and sixth grade basketball tournament. The annual holiday tournaments are for both three- and five-man teams.

Senior Citizens will hold their annual Christmas lunch on Thursday, December 19, at the Magnolia Senior Citizens' Center. A gift exchange between members and a visit by Santa Claus will highlight the day's activity.

Magnolia Teen Center will be open on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, December 26-28 and January 2-4. Thursday's hours will be 3 p.m. to 9 p.m., Friday 3 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. and Saturday 12 noon to 4 p.m. South San Francisco junior and senior teens are invited to participate in the teen orented activities.

Scout Wins Eagle Badge In South S.F. Ceremony

A freshman at Alta Loma Junior High School in South San Francisco, Michael Frank, attained the rank of Eagle Scout at a recent Court of Honor at Buri Buri School by Boy Scout Troop 276.

Mike, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacques Frank, 866 Camest rank in scouting from his father, Jacques Frank. The Eagle Scout, in turn, presented his mother with a corsage and an Eagle necklace. Mike's ex-cubmaster George Paulsen igan congratulating him. Raymond Stull, assistant council commissioner, conducted the National Court.

In other troop activities Scoutmaster Bruce Dirpel inducted Mark Germanis and David Marson as Tenderfoots. David Bridges was promoted to First Class and John Backer and Gary Christopherson attained the rank of Star Scout. Terry Haffey received his Life Scout badge.

Special guests present included Mrs. George Paulsen and Vernon "Tex" Guess, executive of the San Mateo County Council of Boy Scouts of America.

Christmas Carol Program Today At Abe Lincoln

Abraham Lincoln elementary students will present a musical program at today's P-TA meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the multi-use room of the school, in Daly City.

The theme, California Carols, will trace musically the many cultures that added to the traditions of Christmas celebration here in our state starting with the early Spanish settlers and the gold seeking 49'ers.

Theor chestra, under the direction of Miss Anita Jackson, also includes students from neighboring Thomas Edison school.

Miss Christine Petterson is in charge of the Glee Club and has selected a variety of songs. Not only will traditional Christmas Carols be performed, but a variety of music will show how each new wave of settlers ccontributed to California holiday customs. There will be a tribute to the Spanish Missions, the Russian settlers of 1812, the French, the Greeks,t he Jews, and many others.

S.S.F. Teacher Married In Burlingame

Our Lady of Angels Catholic Church in Burlingame was the setting for Saturday's marriage of Marylynne Flahavan and James Thompson.

The couple met their guests at the Elk's Club in San Mateo and departed for a honeymoon in Aspen, Colo. They will make their first home in Belmont.

Marylynne, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Flahavan of San Mateo, recited her vows in a white satin Empire, A-line gown with reembroidered Alencon lace detail and a detachable chapel train.

Cerise ottoman gowns with Venise lace trim were chosen by the attendants who included Joanne O'Brien as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Ronald Reynolds, sister of the benedict, Patricia Conway and Laurie Ann Sanders. Madelyne and Elizabeth Smith served as flower girls.

Mike Trayner acted as best man for James, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Thompson of San Mateo. Ushers included William Flahavan, brother of the bride, Frederick Thompson, brother of the benedict, and Ronald Reynolds.

Sets Choral Performances

The Christian education depatrment of the First Baptist Church of Pacifica will provide holiday entertainment for its pupils this year.

December 22, at 6:30 p.m. the junior department — kindergarten through the eight grade — will present "Christmas Choralogue," by J. I. Ayres.

The Junior Choir willgo carolling December 20. Saddle Town has donated a truck.

The choir will entertain the patients at the Linda Mar Convalescent Home and deliver gifts donated by the the congregation.

Following this they will carol members of the church who are ill.

Mothers Unit Makes Plans

The monthly meeting of the Pacifica Day Mothers Association was held at the home of Jean Brunger, 427 Del Mar Avenue.

Christmas tree name [illegible] were given to each member as they arrived for the meeting.

Final plans were made for the Christmas party held December 14 at Alma Heights Academy.

While waiting for Santa Claus to arrive, the children decorated the tree.

It was agreed to hold the next meeting on January 15 at the home of Grace Shauger, 252 Greenway Drive.

Festival of Lights

HAPPY HANUKKAH! The Jewish Festival of Lights is already two days old!

For Christian readers today marks the beginning of the final week before Christmas. All the ingredients for a bustling merry season for just about everyone.

MEMBERS OF Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority met this past Saturday evening for their annual Christmas party and Dinner.

Mrs. Olive Rebek reports the secret sisters of 1968 were revealed during the dinner which was held at the Leopard Cafe.

Mr. and Mrs. Peck Hall, Pacifica residents, hosted a cocktail party for the membership prior to dinner.

FOR THOSE THINKING AHEAD to a New Years celebation, Mrs. Edward Avanzino has a suggestion.

The Westlake Catholic Men and the Westlake Catholic Women have been working together on the "Last Happenin' of 1968," a New Years party which will be staged in the Our Lady of Mercy Parish Hall.

Mrs. John Breslin and Clyde Silverthorn are chairmen of the event which has been dubbed "Bells, Beads and Bouquets." The December 31 party will begin at 9 p.m. and last until the wee hours of January 1, 1969.

Mrs. William Feeley — 755-7321, is taking calls for reservations. Tickets are being sold for $15 per couple and the cost of the reservation includes favors, refreshments and a midnight buffet.

The live music for the guests' dancing pleasure will be provided by Pete Moirana.

MRS. KAY CHRISTOPHER is the chaiman of tonight's Christmas party for the members of the Altar Rosary Sodality of the Church of the Good Shepherd in Pacifica.

Mrs. Lia Merlini, urges members plan to attend and to take their donations of canned goods and staples which the group will donate to help fill the St. Vincent de Paul's Christmas baskets.

For those still doing a bit of shopping, Mrs. Merlini notes there will be an auction of "some very interesting items."

ALL THE HOURS of rehearsing and the taxing problems of a musical presentation will reach fruition tomorrow evening when the members of the Daly City Community Chorus sing their Christmas program in a musical crescendo for 1968.

The public is invited to the War Memorial building on Mission Street, Daly City, Thursday evening to see and hear the chorus, directed by Dennis Desjardins, sing all the favorite Christmas songs, as well as some delightful selections less frequently performed.

Mrs. Adela Zamora, spokeswoman for the chorus, emphasized that those who enjoy singing, but who have failed to indulge that particular talent during 1968, should begin to think now about putting membership in the Daly City Community Chorus down on their calendar of "things-to-do" in 1969.

The chorus meets each Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Westmoor Park Clubhouse for rehearsal. Guests are always welcome at rehearsals and those who might care to join are asked to discuss the possibility with Desjardins following the practice sessions.

MRS. WILLIAM HOLLAND of the Holy Angels Women's Guild, has announced that a Mass for the children of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine of Holy Angels Church will be offered tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. at the Church.

Mrs. John Provenzale is the chairman of the event.

Family and friends are invited to attend with the children, Mrs. Holland said.

SATURDAY, members of the Pacifica Fifty-Plus Club will take their annual bus ride to Menlo Park to put on a Christmas party for some 86 veterans of World War I who are in the Veterans Hospital.

A chartered bus will take the localites and their contributions of cupcakes, cookies, candy, table decorations and gifts to the hospital.

According to Mrs. Edna Laurel Calhan, president of the club, the members will also be taking items of used clothing and small appliances which the patients may mend.

AN INVITATION FOR the general public to a Christmas play to be presented on Friday evening at Lakeside Presbyterian Church has been issued. A number of North Peninsula young people will take part in the production being presented by the church's Senior High Fellowship.

Several of the same group will take part in the candlelight worship service to be held at 11 p.m. on Christmas eve.

Newlyweds Honeymoon In Mexico

En route to Acapulco and Mexico City are Mr. and Mrs. George H. Kell (Joan Marie Marchi) who were married at noon Saturday at All Souls Catholic Church in South San Francisco.

The Rev. Thomas S. McMahon officiated at the ceremony which was followed by a reception at the Elks' Club in South San Francisco.

Joan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Marchi of South San Francisco, and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Kell of Menlo Park.

The bridal gown was an Empire, A-line design of white silk satin with a portrait neckline, long sleeves and a chapel train. Appliques of Alencon lace and seed pearls were scattered over the bodice, and a satin rose and seed pearl headpiece secured her bouffant veil of silk illusion.

Her traveling costume was a red tailored wool suit with a hip-length jacket, brown accessories and a brown fur hat.

Ruby velvet Empire gowns belted and trimmed with ruby satin where chosen by the attendants who included Mrs. Paul Canavero as matron of honor, Mrs. Nicholas Sarles, Diane Gomes and Rosemarie Welp as bridesmaids. Their headpieces were matching satin roses with short, bouffant veils.

Dina Canavero, daughter of the matron of honor, served as flower girl in a floor-length frock to match the other attendants. She wore a red bow in her hair.

Mrs. Marchi took her place in the family pew in a cocoa colored silk and wool dress with long sleeves trimmed in mink. Mrs. Kell chose a pale blue silk and wool dress, and both mothers pinned on orchid corasges.

George asked Donald Gullikson to be his best man, and Edward J. Haslam Jr., Jerold Ridley and Richard Pollastrini shared ushering duties.

The new matron is a graduate of Mercy High School and San Francisco State College where she affiliated with Alpha Omega sorority. She now is a teacher in Santa Clara where the couple will live. Her husband was graduated from Burlingame High School and Willamette University in Salem, Ore. He is a Sigma Chi.

Cub Scouts Enjoy Father-Son Bake

The third annual Father-Son-Cake-Bake Contest highlight the recent South San Francisco Cub Scout Pack 282's regular monthly meeting. The judging mothers had a difficult time picking winners in three categories from the magnificent array of cake. The Cub Scout-Fathers bakers had several themes to choose from: Happy Birthday 282, showboat, Thanksgiving or Christmas, and still managed to come up with several more. Sal and Vince Rosano's Castle was awarded first prize for the most beautiful cake; second prize went to Boyd and Ray Johnson; third prize was won by John and Anthony Tamburini. Homer and Jimmy Norton's Race Track cake won first prize for unusual cakes; Daniel and Randy Won, second and Bob and Chris Volosing, third. First prize for Funniest Cake went to Jim and Christopher Vickers for their cake which read "Sock-it-to Me 282" (complete with socket), second prize was won by Don and David Zyski, third by Larry and Michael Driscoll.

During awards ceremonies preceding the Cake-Bake judging, Stephen Handricks, Andre Dews and Douglas Leek received their Bobcat pins. Mark Klipfel was presented his two-year service pin, and Jim and Gayle Vickers received four-year pins from Pack Chairman Hawold Delucchi. Chris Volosing, Webelos Den 2 and Robbie Bergero, Den 3 were awarded Denner stripes; Jim Norton, Webelos Den 2 and Danny Hale, Den 3 received Assistant Denner Stripes. Tony Burgos, Dino Cardarelli and David Zyski earned silver arrows. Kary Young earned his wolf badge, gold and silver arrows; Christopher Morris, wolf badge and gold arrow. Webelos awards earned went to Chris Volosing, outdoorsman; Jim Norton, forester, geologist, scientist, sportsman; Glen Young, naturalist; Kevin Tong, athlete; John Quinn and Fred Stillman, geologist; Martin Morris, showman, Mark Klipfel, naturalist.

The attendance pennant was won by Webelos Den 3 and inspection by Den 4.

Cub Scouts Presented Bobcat Pins

New cub induction ceremonies were held recently for South San Fraacisco Cub Pack 69.

Cubmaster Al Baccei and Ceremonies Chairman Ernie Bloom presented Bobcat pins to the following boys: Timothy Urrutia, David Hossli, Frank Hidalogi, Ray Bautista, Mark Freitas, Romero Cruz Jr., Kenneth Rodriguez, Mitchel Campanga, Mitchell Daly, Bobby Zarugin, Peter Kurz, Kevin Fuller, William Turner, Robert Horsley, Ernest Ameral, Patrick Cartwright, Joe Maurino, Michael Foldon, Michael McGuirk, Mark Zuffo, Arthur Schembri, Ricki Estrada, Dean Palmer, Bill Beedle Jr., George Karkazis.

This brings the total of Cubs in the pack to 72, one of the largest in the county. After the presentation Mrs. Anthony Vieira's Den 1 entertained with a musical number using instruments that the boys had made.

Webelos Number 1 told about the visit to the Bozo the Clown TV show. At the next pack meeting the flag ceremony will be presented by Den. 1. Den. 7 will be the honor den for having received the attendance award at the last meeting.

Santa Claus Visits YWCA

Santa Claus visited the San Mateo YWCA Nursery last Thursday.

The children met him at the Westlake Clubhouse in the morning. Nearly 70 children with their mothers were entertained with a puppet show put on by the nursery teachers, Durinda Kelley, Dusty Mellin and Penny West. The puppets were Holiday Spirit, Durinda, Dusty, and Penny, who told about the coming Christmas vacation and that the nursery would be open soon after the holidays.

After the puppet show, the children trimmed a large Christmas tree and sang songs. Then Santa arrived and the children received stockings filled with candy and toys.

North Peninsula Circle of the Florence Crittenton Home recently held its second annual Christmas champagne brunch at the home of Mrs. Frank Greenwood in Daly City. Among those greeting guests were Mrs. Richard Cecconi, Mrs. Paul Gill, Mrs. Marvin Jenson and Mrs. Murry H. Freedman. (Post Photo)

S.S.F. Yule Sing Slated

South San Francisco's Recreation and Park Department is sponsoring the Second Annual Christmas Community Sing-a-Long, Thursday, at 7 p.m. at the West Orange Avenue Library outdoor Amphitheatre.

This year's Sing-a-Long will feature the instrumental music of the San Francisco Music Society Band and performances by local choral groups along with the community singing Christmas carols. Hot coffee and song books will be provided and families are encouraged to attend the once a year event. This year's program will again be under the direction of Robert Bridges of South San Francisco.

In case of inclement weather the entire program will be moved indoors to the auditorium of the library. An organ to accompany the singing has been loaned to the Recreation Department through the courtesy of Bronstein Music. Everyone may attend and participate in singing Christmas Carols or just drop by and listen.

Announced at a recent dinner at the Foster City home of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Dinning was the engagement of their daughter, Debra Dean Dinning, and James Lee Sukosky.

The future bride is the sister of Sharon, Ronny, Dana, and Mark Dinning. She attended Burlingame High School. James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sukosky of Pacifica and the brother of Jeffrey Sukosky. He attended Terra Nova High Scholl. The couple will be married June 21 at the First Baptist Church in San Bruno.

El Camino Press Honor

The National Scholastic Press Association, a high school newspaper critical service has presented the "El Caballito," the El Camino High School newspaper with First Class rating for the Spring Semester of 1968.

By a narrow margin, the paper missed top honors, that of All-American.

Quill and Scroll, an international critical service, also awarded the paper with the International First Place Award. The paper missed the highest rating, the International Honor Rating, by only 13 points.

"You have a good, solid newspaper. It is bright and interesting to read," commented Quill adn Scroll Judge R. L. Butler. The judge considered the cartoons a fresh addition to a high school paper. Features, interviews, page planning and ad layouts are the newspaper's strongest points, agreed both critical services. Coverage of curricular news was the major weakness pointed out by both of the judges.

Ho-Ho's and Yum-Yums

GOOD MORNING, good cooks.

"Ho Ho Ho," and all that jazz. Trust you are all through with your shopping, have the gifts wrapped and are sitting back and rereading "Gone With The Wind," just to pass the time. What a laugh! The only person who could do that would have to have a maid, a butler, a cook, a nursemaid and wall to wall money.

Since my maid, butler, cook and nursemaid just left for a trip around the world and my wall-to-wall is my new green rug . . . I guess I'll just have to struggle along in my usual Christmas rush.

In the midst of all the rushing about we can still find time to make this delicious Christmas bread. My thanks to a wonderful little cook book published by Betty Crocker for this recipe.

CRAZY QUILT BREAD

½ cup sugar
3 cups biscuit mix
1 egg
1¼ cups milk
1 teaspoon anise seed three-fourths cup chopped nuts
½ cup mixed candied fruits

Preheat oven to 350-degrees. Grease a loaf pan 9x5x3-inches. In mixing bowl combine the one-half cup sugar with the three cups biscuit mix. Combine the one egg and the one and one-fourth cups milk. Add to the dry mixture and mix by hand, but don't overmix. Lastly stir in the one teaspoon anise seed, three-fourths cup chopped nuts and one-half cup candied fruit. Pour into prepared pan and bake in 350-degree oven 40 to 50 minutes.

NOW, FOR SOME IDEAS for desserts this Christmas season. The first one I'd like to suggest is a deliciously different version of mincemeat pie. While the mincemeat partially bakes in the crust, you can mix the remaining ingredients to cover the pie. This delicately flavored lemon sponge mixture puffs and bakes to a golden brown, making a beautiful topping for the pie.

SPONGE TOP MINCE PIE

One can (one pound, six and one-half ounce) mince meat pie filling
One 10-inch unbaked pie shell (or a generous 9-inch pie shell)
¼ cup sifted all-purpose flour
¾ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
3 Tablespoons butter, melted
2 egg yolks
1 Tablespoon lemon juice
2 egg whites

Preheat oven to hot, 425-degrees. Prepare pastry shell and spread mincemeat pie filling in it. Bake for 20 minutes.

Combine the one-fourth cup flour, three-fourths cup sugar, one-eighth teaspoon salt, three tablespoons melted butter, one tablespoon lemon juice and the two egg yolks; beat until fluffy.

Beat the two egg whites until they hold stiff peaks but are not dry; fold into egg mixture.

Reduce oven heat to moderate, 350-degrees; remove pie from oven. Spread egg mixture over mincemeat. Return to oven and bake about 30 minutes longer.

ANOTHER DELICIOUS pie that would go nicely at Christmas time is this rum flavored gem. My friend Ceil Collin gave me this recipe.

RUM PIE

¼ cup cold water
1 envelope (one Tablespoon) gelatin
4 eggs, separated
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup hot water
one-third cup rum, or one Tablespoon rum flavoring
½ cup sugar

Soften the one package gelatin in the one-fourth cup cold water. In top of double boiler beat the egg yolks slightly and stir in the first half cup of sugar and the one-half teaspoon salt. Gradually stir in the one-half cup hot water. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Remove from heat and mix in softened gelatin, stirring until dissolved.

Cool slightly. Pour in the one-third cup rum, or one tablespoon rum flavoring, and beat well. Chill until mixture starts to congeal. Beat the four egg whites till stiff and gradually add the other one-half cup sugar. Fold into chilled rum custard. Spoon into pastry shell or crumb shell. Chill until firm.

CHOCLATE CRUMB SHELL

1½ cups chocolate cookie crumbs
4 Tbsp. melted butter.

Rub together and put into buttered 9-inch pie pan. Chill while making filling.

THIS NEXT DESSERT is the one I'm going to serve this Christmas. Mrs. Loretto Booth who lives at 2286-17th Ave. in San Francisco was kind enough to share this recipe with us.

ORANGE-CRANBERRY TORTE

2¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 cup granulated sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 cup chopped walnuts
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 cup diced dates
1 cup fresh cranberries
Grated rind of two oranges
1 cup granulated sugar

Heat oven to 350-degrees. In large mixing bowl sift together the two and one-fourths cup flour, one cup sugar, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one teaspoon each baking powder and baking soda. Stir in the one cup each walnuts, diced dates and fresh cranberries, and the orange rind.

Combine the two beaten eggs, one cup buttermilk and three-fourths cup salad oil. Add to flour fruit mixture. Stir until blended. Pour into well greased 10-inch tube pan. Bake one hour in 350-degree oven.

While cake is baking, combine the one cup each orange juice and sugar to make sauce.

When cake is baked remove from oven and allow to stand in pan until lukewarm. Then remove from pan and place on rack over a large plate. Pour sauce over cake, spoon the drippings over again and again until the sauce is absorbed into cake. Cover cake with heavy foil and refrigerate for 24 hours. Serve in slices. Serves 12-16.

This makes a rich, rich dessert and is delicious plain. You may however serve it with a dollop of whipped cream if you wish.

SSF Women Hold Annual Yule Party

The annual "HiJinx" Christmas party of the South San Francisco Women's Club held Thursday was a "Happy Holiday Event!"

Chairman of th occasion was Mrs. Sisto Feliz, with Mrs. Andrew Gidas supervising the special turkey luncheon served.

Santa's Helpers, ditsribuuting presents, were Mrs. Bruno Mazzotti and Mrs. J. B. Secrest.

Winners of the traditional hat contest were Mrs. George DeSalvatore, prettiest; Mrs. Eugene Burkwald, most unusual and Mrs. Fred Ingle, funniest.

Highlight of the program was special entertainment by South San Francisco High School's mixed chorus, which performed a rendition of unusual Christmas songs, under the direction of Allen Fuller.

As representatives of the club, Mrs. Ralph Marcus and Mrs. Fred Ingle are presenting a portable stereo automatic record player, being donated by group for the Mental Health Unit of Peninsula Hospital to Mrs. Robert A. Dobbins, director of volunteers for the Mental Health Unit.

Veteran's chairman, Mrs. Carmelo Imprescia, announced the SSFWC is donating money to purchase a subscription book for a Palo Alto veteran.

On December 26 the Garden Section is sponsoring a Christmas house tour.

AT WESTMOOR

150 Students Plan Concert

A Christmas Season Choral Concert, the combined efforts of nearly 150 students of Westmoor and Serramonte High Schools, will be presented Thursday, December 19 at 7:45 p.m. in the Westmoor campus Little Theater.

Vocalists, instrumentalists and actors representing five different groups will perform.

Girls Glee and Mixed Chorale will begin the program with selections of secular music beginning with Nigra Sum and moving toward Consider Yourself from Oliver.

A change of pace will be provided by the Comedia del Arte Troupe, a group of actors and actresses reminiscent of the Italian Renaissance. They will present the humorous "Pantaloons Peculiar Present."

After intermission, Girls' Glee will return to sing Fan Fare for Christmas and Snow, Snow, Beautiful Snow.

Mixed Chorale will sing several novelty tunes including The Night Before Christmas.

Selections from the Oxford Book of Carols and Mozart's Ave Venum will be offered by the Select Choir, a new group this year. These 16 vocalists meet after school for practice and direction from Mrs. Darlene Ironsides, teacher of vocal music for both high schools.

A woodwind quintet will accompany the singing at selected times throughout the concert. Members of the quintet are clarinetists, Jim Bari, Bill O'Shaughnessy and Marcia Maria and flutists, Kathy O'Shaughnessy and Sheryl Jeppson.

The concert is open to the public. Charge for admission is 50 cents. Proceeds will be used to start a fund which the students hope to continue until they can buy a harpsicord.

Debra Bernal, Jean Pierce and Sue Noffsinger will be among the Westmoor-Serramonte High Schools glee and mixed chorale units presenting concert December 19.

Yule Bazaar At D.C. School

Preparations are underway for the annual Christmas pageant and bazaar presented by students and P-TA members at Franklin D. Roosevelt Elementary School in Daly City.

The program is scheduled for December 19, beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the multi-purpose room at the school.

Mrs. Warren Gets State Job's Daughters' Office

Delegates attending the annual Job's Daughters Grand Guardian Council business session at Santa Monica, California, elected Mrs. Lucy (Ed) Warren of Pacifica to the office of Vice Grand Guardian of California, International Order of Job's Daughters.

The members of the Grand Guardian Council represent the adult advisors who serve as Bethel Guardian Council members for the 354 Job's Daughters Bethels in California.

Boundary Change Ahead for Schools

There will be some changes in the attendance boundaries of Serramonte, Oceana, Westmoor, and Terra Nova High Schools by the start of the 1970-71 school year, but none before then.

Trustees and administrators of the Jefferson High School District agreed to that point Monday night.

The matter was brought to the board's attention by Serramonte Principal Louis Martin, who asked for a policy statement regarding possible changes.

Martin referred particularly to a district policy that freshmen and sophomore students living in certain west-of-Skyline areas have the option of attending either Serramonte or Westmoor.

"There has been some discussion in the community, and particularly among Westmoor students, who live in (those) areas, that in September, 1969, they will request a transfer from Westmoor to Serramonte High School," Martin said.

"In order to prepare a master schedule and provide the instructional space for all Serramonte students, I would like to have the board reaffirm or reject its policy relative to the . . . above-mentioned residential areas," he declared.

Serramonte and Oceana High Schools will begin scheduling for the next school term on February 1.

To facilitate getting the information to the computers in March, the board and the administrators decided to stand against changes.

In this regard, Martin had pointed out:

"It was stated last spring that once students made up their minds to attend Serramonte or Wetmoor they would be forever bound by their decision and would not be allowed to change their position."

Supt. Edward Morgan explained that administrators next March or April would present to trustees a long-range boundary plan pertaining to the four schools.

He noted that Terra Nova is the "fastest growing" facility in the district and that pealing off off its attendance area into Ocean's would be considered.

Additionally, Morgan said, some of the present Oceana area closer to Serramonte probably would be re-aligned into the Serramonte attendance area.

Senior Citizens Install Officers

New officers have been elected by the San Bruno Senior Citizens Club. Among those installed December 5 are Clara Lawrence, of 578 Cedar Avenue, president.

Others installed included Vera Landreth, 552 Fourth Avenue, first vice president; Claire White, 490 Oak Avenue, second vice president; Katherine Wilcox, 635 San Bruno Avenue, secretary; Bobbe Flory, 210 Cypress Avenue, treasurer; Alfreda Coffey, 851 Mills Avenue, sunshine chairman; and William J. Chapman, 269 La Prenda, Millbrae, publicity chairman.

On December 12, the regular coffee and luncheon meeting was held, with all in the area over 50 invited.

The group is looking for more pinochle and bridge players.

The annual Christmas party is planned for Noon, December 19; included in the entertainment will be a motion picture. Gifts will be exchanged, with all coming asked to bring a giftwrapped item, not to cost more than $1. Each also brings his own lunch.

McCloskey's Drive Cost $71,891

Republican Paul N. McCloskey's successful campaign for reelection in the Eleventh Congressional District cost $71,891, according to a declaration filed by his campaign committee with County Clerk John A. Bruning.

The effort made on McCloskey's behalf far exceeded the $10,107 spent by his Democratic opponent, Urban G. Whitaker. David D. Ransom, the Peace and Freedom candidate for the post, listed $95 in expenses.

Wednesday was the deadline for candidates in the November 5 election to file declarations of expenses.

Carl A. Britschgi, Republican incumbent in the Twenty-sixth Assembly District, listed costs of $17,141, while the loser, Democrat Marshall S. Mayer, spent $9,064.

Leo J. Ryan, who was unopposed on the ballot for reelection in the Twenty-seventh Assembly District, listed $3,532 in costs. Will Slocum, an official write-in candidate for the post, spent $1,140.

Declarations by school bond committees listed these expenditures: San Carlos, $942; College of San Mateo, $5,565; Laguna Salada, $428. Each of the bond issues failed.

Another loser, a recreation bond issue in Millbrae, had $2,300 spent on its behalf.

100 Delegates To Conference From Daly City

Over 100 members of the Daly City Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses will be delegates to the semi-annual circuit assembly at the Winterland Arena in San Francisco this weekend.

The three-day training program, which begins Friday, December 20, is expected to reach a peak attendance of 1,800 from San Francisco and the Peninsula.

William Thompson, presiding minister of the local group, discussed the importance of these gatherings by pointing to the challenge to Christian thinking in the rising tide of materialism.

Thompson's remarks came at the conclusion of the weekly ministry-development class held at the Kingdom Hall, 3435 Alemany Boulevard.

It was also announced that the congregation meetings would be cancelled the weekend of the assembly.

The conference reaches its climax with a public meeting on December 22, at 3 p.m.

35 Youths Sing Girls

Thirty-five youngsters from the Belle Haven School in the Ravenswood School District of Menlo Park sang Christmas Carols during the meeting recently of the Woodside Auxiliary of the Childrens Home Society.

Director John Burke directed the presentation in the social room of the Woodside Village Church.

Just One Toy To See Santa

The Marine Corps Reserve, San Bruno District, will put on a weapons display Saturday at Skyline Plaza Shopping Center, headquarters for Toys for Tots, Daly City.

Donation to see the display is one new toy. All Toys will be given to Operation Santa Claus for distribution to needy families throughout Daly City.

Deelger General Manager U.R. ("Jack") Kendree and Skyline officials Stan Jones and Jim Diamond will greet Santa Claus at 10:45 a.m.

D.C. Resident Is Manager For Raytheon

Jacob S. Drory of Daly City has been named manager of manufacturing engineering for Raytheon Company's Marine Products Operation, South San Francisco.

He will supervise standards activities, assembly and fabrication methods, value engineering and all other aspects of manufacturing at the plant which produces radars, radiotelephones, radio direction finders, depth sounders and other marine electronic equipment.

Drory was most recently supervisor of manufacturing and engineering development for Philco-Ford Corporation's Space and Re-entry Systems Division. Prior to that, he was supervising engineer for Fairchild Semi-conductor's Equipment Engineering Division and at Dalmo Victor as manager of manufacturing engineering for 11 years.

Auto World

Major improvements in the nation-wide Plymouth Shooting Contest were announced recently by Chrysler-Plymouth.

John H. Moore, National Manager of the Trouble Shooting Contest, said that "as part of a continuing effort to improve the contest" the following changes will become effective with the 1969 contest: 1) addition of post-seconday schools to the contest; 2) addition of a written examination at both the local contest and the National Finals which will be weighed as part of a participating team's overall final score and 3) first place scholarship awards will be increased 25 per cent to $4,000 each.

More than 2,000 high schools and colleges from all 50 states — with a total auto shop enrollment of nearly 150,000 students — are expected to participate in the 1969 Trouble Shooting Contest.

The Trouble Shooting Contest is divided into three classes consisting of those students taking vocational education, industrial arts or post-secondary courses. Beginning in 1969, the first place team in each class will be offered a $4,000 college scholarship.

In 1969, contestants will compete for a total of $125,000 worth of scholarships, prizes, trophies, tools and other automobile components for their schools.

SALES ROUND-UP — Ford Division and Ford dealers set records for both car and truck sales in the last ten days of November. The results not only produced a new high mark for combined vehicle sales in November's final 10-day period, but made the month the second best November in division history.

Car sales of 60,887 in the final period of November beat the old mark of 56,891, set in 1966. Delivery of 18,916 trucks set the 13th consecutive 10-day record for Ford Division. The 53,287 trucks sold in November also set new high for the month. Car sales in November totaled 165,790.

The breakdown of sales by car line for November's final 10 days were Ford: 32,999; Fairlane, 11,338; Falcon, 4,138; Mutang, 10,409, and Thunderbird, 2,003.

Buick dealers sold 24,911 cars in the final 10 days of November, an all-time record for the period, O. Franklin Frost, general sales manager, reported today.

The total surpassed the former record of 18,643 set in 1966 b y 33.6 per cent and topped last year's sales of 18,668 in the same period by 35.6 per cent, Frost said.

In addition, Buick dealers sold 2,728 Opel Kadetts in the final third of November to more than double the 1,351 Kadett deliveries in the same period last year.

Last month's deliveries included 18,749 Specials, 33,540 regulars and 4,002 Rivieras.

Lincoln-Mercury dealers in the Oakland sales district experienced their best November sales ever, paced by record sales of Mercury, Cougar and Lincoln-Continental.

Paul W. Brinkman, district sales manager, reported total sales of 2,195 units during the month, exceeding previous record sales in November 1966 by 721 cars.

The district includes northern California and northern Nevada.

The sales of Dodge cars and trucks in the western area for the month of November, 1968, has surpassed any other November in the history of the auto company's operation, according to N. K. Harris, western area sales manager.

Harris said that the Los Angeles, Denver, Portland and San Francisco region Dodge dealers sold 9,849 units in November, 1968, compared to a total of 9,397 cars and trucks in November of 1967.

He said efforts of Dodge dealers in the 12 western states reflected a 3.5 per cent increase over the same period last year.

Yule Concert At S.S.F. High Wednesday

The South San Francisco High School Music Department will present its annual Christmas Concert on Wednesday evening, December 18 at 8 p.m. in the High School auditorium. The public is invited to attend this program of Christmas Music and admission is free.

The program will be presented by the High School Chorus, directed by Allen Fuller, and the High School Concert Band, directed by Warren Heckman. Featured musical highlights will include traditional and contemporary selection of the Christmas season, as well as those of international tradition.

Selections by the chorus will be: Coventry Carol, based upon an ancient English Plain Chant; Hacia Belen Va Un Borrico, a traditional Spanish Carol, and Lirum, a sixteenth century English Madrigal. Featured soloists with the chorus are Lynn Hewitt, Sharon Douglas, Don Dills, and Brenda Collopy. The band will play several numbers denoting the Christmas season including: Winter Wonderland, A Christmas Fugue, and Medleys of familiar carols and songs for the holiday season.

San Bruno's Cage Tourney Starts Friday

The Seventh Annual Holiday Invitational Basketball Tournament, sponsored by the San Bruno Recreation Department, will get underway Friday at 4 p.m. with a seventh grade "A" game involving Alta Loma from South San Francisco and Taylor from Millbrae.

With 20 schools represented and over 85 teams involved, this year's tournament will be the biggest in the tournament's history.

Schools accepting this year's invitations are: Ben Franklin of Colma, Parkway, Alta Loma, Southwood, St. Veronica and All Souls of South San Francisco; Taylor, Green Hills, and St. Dunstans from Millbrae; Our Lady of Angels from Burlingame; St. Bartholomew from San Mateo; Ralston from Belmont; McKinley of Redwood City; St. Raymond of Menlo Park; Brisbane School from Brisbane; and Parkside, St. Roberts, Engvall and Portola from the host city San Bruno.

Again this year, the tournament will be divided into the "A"s and B's division with a trophy also awarded to the school showing the most spirit throughout the two week tournament.

Over 900 boys will be involved in the two week extravaganza which will run from December 20 thru January 4 with games being played throughout the day except for the Christmas and New Year Holidays.

The City of San Bruno Recreation Department wishes to extend a warm greeting for all families and friends to come to the Recreation Center and root for their favorite teams.

Police One-Up On Runaways

San Bruno police, keeping score on juvenile runaways over the weekend, were "ahead of the game" today. Two San Bruno youngsters were reported missing, but the police apprehended three, one from Fresno.

2-in-1 Recipe For Christmas Cookies

Cookies in two different, delicious flavors, both chocolate and butterscotch, are done all in one mixing and baking with this handy holiday recipe that calls on the convenience of semi-sweet chocolate and butterscotch morsels.

CHRISTMAS COOKIE TWINS

Crumb Layers:

1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
¾ cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup butter or margarine, melted

Combine bread crumbs, sugar and cinnamon. Add butter, mix well. Use one half crumb mixture to line bottom of 2 greased 8 x 8 x 2-inch pans or a 9 x 13 x 2-inch pan.

Chocolate Butterscotch Batter:

1 cup butter or margarine
¾ cup sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon almond extract
1¾ cups sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 6-ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels
1 cup California walnuts, divided
1 6-ounce package (1 cup) butterscotch morsels

Cream together butter and sugar. Beat in eggs, one at a time, add almond extract, beating until very light and fluffy. Sift in flour and salt; stir until blended. Divide mixture in half. To one half of mixture add semi-sweet chocolate morsels and ½ cup walnut halves. To other half, add butterscotch morsels and remaining walnuts. Spoon chocolate mixture over crumbs in one baking pan, spreading gently to cover. Spoon butterscotch mixture over crumbs in other pan and spread gently. (If one pan is used, spread chocolate mixture over one half of crumbs and butterscotch over other half.) Sprinkle tops with remaining crumb mixture, pressing in lightly. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) 35 to 40 minutes. Cool. Cut in 1¼-inch squares.
YIELD: Approximately 6 dozen cookie squares.

Try a Bran Loaf As Holiday Gift

Besides the breakfast dish everyone knows, whole bran cereal makes a crisp and flavorsome ingredient for a fruit filled quick bread. It is moist and tender and almost rich enough to substitute for fruit cake. Serve it plain or made into sandwiches with cream cheese filling. You'll like it with a quick cereal and milk breakfast, too, as it is not too sweet. Remember though, it firms up and slices best after storage in the refrigerator overnight.

Fruited Bran Loaf

2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
¾ cup sugar
3 teaspoons baking powder
1¼ teaspoons salt
1 cup whole bran cereal
1 cup finely cut dried apricots
1 cup pecan halves
1 cup whole red candied cherries
1½ cups milk
¼ cup melted shortening or cooking oil
1 egg, beaten

Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder, and salt into bowl. Stir in bran, apricots, pecan halves, and cherries. Combine remaining ingredients. Add to dry ingredients; stir just until dry ingredients are moistened. Pour into greased 9 x 5 x 3-inch loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven (350°F) until done, about 1 hour and 10 minutes. Cool in pan 10 minutes; remove and cool on rack. Chill well before slicing. Yield: 1 loaf.

Well, that time of year has arrived again when businessmen, especially salesmen, probably will not travel much, if at all, until after New Year's.

Retailers, after all, are too busy to see salesmen during the Christmas rush. And while other kinds of business go on regardless of the approach of the holidays, the tendency for most of us is to slow up a bit and enjoy ourselves.

So, perhaps it's a good time to take a good look at how your husband eats when he's on the road. Have you ever checked?

I hate to be a kill-joy. But many husbands undoubtedly overeat, both at home and on the road — especially on the road on an expense account. And it's not necessarily their fault. If you are entertaining, or being entertained, it is difficult to be restrained if others insist on "living it up."

Trouble is, it ups the waistline, but good!

So, does your husband need to reduce? That's our starting point. If not, there's no need to worry, unless, of course, you

But the husband who is overweight — this man is going to have to consider watching his eating when he's out of town as well as at home.

And it isn't that difficult.

Approach him this way. Ask if he wouldn't like to handle his eating as efficiently as he does his business. He'll probably remark that eating isn't business, that it is, after all, partly for pleasure.

True, you say. But health is essential to his business so some kind of control is going to be necessary.

He may have to skip two martinis he's been enjoying with lunch. He will probably be better off if he indulges more in high protein foods and vegetables and fruit. He doesn't need so much carbohydrate and fat. So the hot sandwiches immersed in gravy, and the french fries better be handled with discretion. Salads are better. A salad, incidentally, can be almost the whole meal at lunch if he wishes. They come adorned, for example, with ham, turkey, cheese, which give protein. Be moderate with the dressing.

CENTER OF ATTRACTION

A "Jolly Snowman" made of popcorn in a holiday setting like this will add fun and excitement to any festive gathering. Snowman is formed by three popcorn balls "glued" together with a syrup mixture. A string of popcorn around the "snowman" makes him truly the center of attraction. Photo Courtesy The West Bend Company.

Yule Centerpiece Good 'Nuff to Eat

Dress up your holiday table this year with a centerpiece that's good enough to eat.

Such a table decoration is a Jolly Snowman Centerpiece made from everybody's snack-time favorite — popcorn. It'll impress your guests and thrill the youngsters. The kids can help in its preparation, but they won't need any help eating it.

Here's how to go about making the Jolly Snowman Centerpiece as created in the Test Kitchens of The West Bend Company, leading manufacturer of automatic corn poppers.

Mix one cup white sugar, one cup white corn syrup, one-fourth cup water and one-fourth teaspoon salt. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture boils. Boil gently until a small amount reaches the "hard-ball" stage (250 degrees) in cold water. Use a candy thermometer if available.

Remove from heat and mix in three tablespoons butter and one teaspoon vanilla. Pour slowly over four quarts of unsalted popped corn. Shape while warm into three balls, 3, 4 and 6 inches in diameter, to form the head, body and base.

Fashion two arms about four inches long, two inches in diameter. Press entire figure into shape using a portion of the syrup mixture.

Use raisins or gumdrops for eyes, nose, mouth and buttons. A marshmallow on a cookie makes a humorous-looking hat.

For added dash, put the snowman on "skis" made of licorice strips, with candy cane poles and a scarf made of ribbon.

Tangy Fruit Cup First On Bill of Fare

As a first course or a delectable dessert, our tart and tangy fresh fruit cup lusciously fills the bill of fare.

Composed of flavorful fresh fruits . . . sweet, juicy oranges, lively grapefruit, mellow tender pears, golden bananas and red cranberries . . . the medley is a delight as the first or last act of a holiday meal extraganza.

This is the season when these nutritious, fresh fruits set the scene in so many different ways. They make a colorful and welcome gift when arranged in a basket with holiday greens. They are favorite and traditional fillers for the Christmas stockings. Served "as is" with cheese, they are a refreshing light dessert after hearty holiday meals.

As centerpieces, bright beautiful fruits gleam glowing with candleleght on a festive table. They are welcome with coffee when guests stop by to see the tree. Used in salads they add zip and zest to turkey and ham remaining from holiday dining.

It's a good idea to keep big bowls of fresh fruit around when the children are home on vacation, as a healthy in between meal snack and to provide a pocketful of energy when they set off to go sledding and ice-skating. And for a real old-fashioned Christmas, don't forget to trim the tree with strings of shining red cranberries!

FESTIVE FRESH FRUIT CUP

1 cup fresh cranberries
⅛ cup water
½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon fresh lemon juice
1 grapefruit, peeled and sectioned
2 oranges, peeled and sectioned
1 pear, peeled, cored and cut into wedges
1 banana, peeled and sliced
1 cup seeded grapes

Combine cranberries, water, sugar and lemon juice in saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring occasionally, just until cranberry skins pop. Cool. Stir in remaining fruits. Chill thoroughly. Makes about 6 servings.

Felt Makes Gift-Holder

Use scraps of felt to make small stockings — trim and place a small gift in each one. Let each of your guests choose one to take home.

Cover rings of an embroidery hoop with red ribbon — place together at right angles and hang a small Christmas ornament or bit of holly from the top junction. Attach string for hanging. Many inexpensive craft materials are available. Colored tissue paper can be crumpled for colorful balls, or formed into flowers. Paper cups become stars and bells with a minimum of effort. For stars, cut the sides of the cup into thin strips from top to base; flatten, decorate the bottom of the cup (center of the star) with sequins or beads, and hang. Cups are used whole for the bells. Invert the cup and add a clapper.

Furs For Men Appear

Fashion highlight: In the beginning, nobody took furs-for-men very seriously — except the women's furriers. But seemingly all-at-once, coats appear to be one of the most exciting new fashions in view for the winter season . . . and for getting. Fur coats for men are not new, of course but they've been available only to men of means, and to outdoorsmen who wore them for warmth and comfort rather than for fashion. This year, however, they'll be shown — and bought — in fine furs and fake furs, in well-styled garments and at prices the average man . . . and his mate . . . can afford.

Student Exposure to Controversial Ideas

SHOULD college administrators permit students to be exposed on the campus to controversial ideas?

According to Dr. Robert W. Ewigleben, president of College of San Mateo, they not only should; they must.

"Asignificant part of the educational process, particularly in a democracy such as ours, involves this kind of exposure," Dr. Ewigleben told members of the CSM Patrons Association at their December meeting at the college. "Students, if they are to become responsible citizens, just have their own ideas tested and challenged by the ideas of others; they must learn how to examine the validity of all ideas.

"BY DOING THIS, and only by doing this, can they reach mature decisions on the philosophy they will hammer out as their own, do direct the course of their lives. Only in this way can they assure that they will be immune to the kind of diseased arguments that can seriously infect people who have not had opportunities for an adequate examination of ideas."

The president made a clear distinction, however, between exposure and indoctrination.

"One student may try to indoctrinate another on the campus," he said; "that comes under the heading of freedom of speech. But our teachers in the classroom have quite a different purpose; theirs is a professional obligation to expose students to ideas and to help them learn to examine ideas, but never to indoctrinate. And they are all well aware of this."

Dr. Ewigleben, in response to questions from the audience, also explained CSM's commitment to its Readiness Program for students who come to the campus inadequately prepared for college-level work.

"These people need to have someplace in life to go except jail or welfare. Many of them, when they arrive here, are headed in that direction; they already are convinced they are failures.

"WITH THE HELP we can give them, many are learning they don't need to fail; they can succeed. A whole new life is opened up to them.

"Even those who don't make the grade, if they do flunk out, still have learned to look at themselves differently."

The president told of one student who had visited him to say goodby before leaving the campus.

"This young man said he just couldn't 'cut it' here, but he was not defeated because of this," said Dr. Ewigleben. "He explained to me: 'I know I can work, I can be productive, I can stay out of trouble. Now I know these things. Before, all I knew was how to hustle'."

"Whatever we spend here on such stuents, in time, effort and money," Dr. Ewigleben declared, "we will get back, and society will get back, ten times over."

ONE OF THE ASSOCIATION members asked about "troublemakers who are attending college to stir things up and not to acquire an education."

Dr. Ewigleben answered that students who engage in such behavior face prompt disciplinary action. "In recent weeks, nine students have been suspended for the kind of thing you're talking about," he said.

Theatrical Family Always on the Go

The Frank Prendergast family of Burlingame needs a large scoreboard to keep track of each other. There isn't a day or night that one of them isn't at the theatre. It's which theatre that causes the confusion.

For daughter Monica, a 19-year-old San Francisco State College student, being at the theatre might mean ballet rehearsals for the San Francisco Opera Company (she'll travel to L.A. with the six operas the company will present there in March), or she might be directing choreography at the Burlingame Recreation Center or staging a children's show at Hillbarn Little Theatre.

Frank is an architect by day and thespian by night. He's played everything from walk-ons to leading roles at Hillbarn and assists his wife at Burlingame Recreation productions by doing sound, sweeping up, working lights and ushering.

There's usually at least two Prendergasts working these shows since Monica also does the 33 youngsters' makeup and costumes.

BUT THEIR CURRENT PROJECT IS A FAMILY AFFAIR with mother Margaret directing "Winnie The Pooh" Saturday and Sunday at 3 p.m. as a benefit for Hillbarn Theatre, using her eager band of Burlingame moppets in all the roles.

Brother Alan, a 15-year-old student at Burlingame High School won't be seen but is rehearsing as an offstage voice. It's not so demanding that it might conflict with his forthcoming appearance at Hillbarn's Green Room Sunday evening concert reading.

Although a drama student at high school and amateur guitarist, Alan is the only professional in the family, having played the role of Emory in Auntie Mame at Circle Star Theatre.

Theatre going, as well as performing, is a full time avocation with this family, since Margaret occasionally appears at Circle Star Theatre in small roles and has frequently performed with Millbrae Community Theatre and Hillbarn.

Now she's into it up to her brunette head with teaching French to groups of AAUW members, directing three children's shows a year for 8 to 13 year olds, directing a Christmas musical of songs and dances titled "Christmas At the Circus" for Roosevelt School and "The Petrified Prince" for Franklin School. Most of her productions include re-writing the script to bring it up to date.

Praise for Drama

I WENT TO SEE J.B. because I didn't think a high school could do it. I came away filled with praise for Westmoor's efforts.

J.B. is a hard play to do. It is filled with emotions that tax the skills of the best actor. It is filled with philosophy that must come through the histronics or the play is meaningless.

J.B. is a modern interpolation on the ancient story of Job. It is a record of a spiritual crisis in the life of a man whose world was suddenly bereft of meaning. His business and all that he owns are swept away; his children die; his wife leaves, his own body is afflicted with a painful disease.

IN HIS MISERY, he looks to science, to religion, to friendship for comfort and does not find it. Yet he will not give up his faith. "God is still God, all-knowing and all powerful."

"Show me my sin," he shouts. "What is my fault? What have I done? . . . I cry out of wrong, but I am not heard. I cry aloud, but there is no judgment."

Nothing but silence answers him or the ancient human cry that rings throughout the play.

"Oh that I knew where I might find Him! —
That I might come even to His seat!
I would order my cause before Him
And fill my mouth arguments."

Finally the distant voice of God replies—

"Who is this that darkeneth Counsel
By words without knowledge? . . .
Where wast thou
When I laid the foundation of the earth"

And finally, "Shall he that contendeth with the Almighty instruct him? . . . He that reproveth God, let him answer it!

Then J.B. begins to realize his fault. He has cried out; he has demanded God's attention, but he has not accepted his fate and tried to improve it.

"Behold, I am vile; What shall I answer thee? I will lay mine hand upon my mouth."

"Gird up thy loins like a man," the Voice replies. "I will lay mine demand of thee, and declare thou unto me."

With his face drawn in agony, J.B. cries, "Mine eye seeththee Wherefore I abhor myself and repent."

This is heavy drama in the setting of a Greek play with a chorus of popcorn sellers to make comments and related it all to the audience.

THIS IS A HEAVY DRAMA for a group of high school students to attack — Yet the Westmoor High School group carried it off.

Ron Wells as Nickles was A plus. Pat Donohue was good as Sarah. Steve Grable as J.V. deserves an A for effort. I've seldom seen a high school student throw himself more completely into a part. His youth detracted from his performance as one might expect.

The stage settings helped me to forget the youth of the members of the cast. The props, the sound, the lighting, the make-up and the music added to the success of the evening. And I thought it remarkable that no one missed a cue or walked in at the wrong time.

Surely, Kenneth Brown, the teacher-director is to be congratulated for choosing such a good play and presenting successfully.

It is time the people of Daly City awakened. Their schools do a good job with their plays and with the presentations of the glee clubs, the bands, the orchestra and all the sport events. Yet they are poorly supported.

Time after time the activities of these groups are perfected, yet unattended by the very people who criticize the schools. More support is needed from the cultural forces of the community. More support could come from PTAs, civic clubs and other groups.

MORE INTEREST in the activities of the science department, the business training department, the speech department, indeed of all the departments in schools of both the Jefferson High School and the Jefferson Elementary Districts is sorely needed.

A 'VITAL FORUM'

Playhouse Hops Hurdles

By DON GRIERSON
Post Staff Writer

One of the more unusual phenomena on the San Francisco performing arts scene is a non-profit, meagerly subsidized theatrical company which, in spite of manifold obstacles, has survived 21 years to become the city's oldest still-functioning live theater group.

The Playhouse and Interplayers Company "began small and remains small," but the two theaters comprising the semi-professional organization have, since their inception, provided a vital local forum for the new and experimental in dramatic art.

"With the exception of the old Actors' Workshop, our company was for many years the only avant-garde group in the city," Henry Stein, current managing director of the twin theatres, said this week.

Stein, former director for the Playhouse, took over as head of the entire company last year.

One of the major obstacles faced by the Interplayers-Playhouse director, as well as by managers of the city's larger theatrical groups, has been in the area of financing.

The company receives only a small contribution from the hotel and restaurant tax, and the bulk of the financing comes from box office receipts.

All the actors, directors and other personnel, including Stein, are "unpaid volunteers."

The Playhouse attempted to turn professional last year, after Stein took over from former managing director Kermit Sheets, but it "didn't work out."

The attempt was made when the troupe moved from the old theatre building at Beach and Hyde to the present location on Mason.

"We felt we could upgrade our productions somewhat by using Equity actors," the director said, "but box office receipts alone failed to provide the necessary revenue."

A great many of the cast members for each of teh dozen plays presented each year by the two theaters come from San Francisco State College, where the drama department gives course credit to some students participating in the productions.

Otherwise, auditions for most of the plays are "open to anybody," and some of the actors, indeed, "just come in off the street," according to Stein.

Though Stein manages business affairs and administrative matters for the entire company, the Interplayers Theatre productions are under the control of director David Lindeman.

In fact, the two entities within the company are completely independent, artistically, and represent divergent approaches and philosophies toward thet heatre.

Stein, a graduate of the San Francisco State College drama department who works as an architectural draftsman during the day, is an exponent of "the theatre of humanism."

"The stress at The Playhouse is upon the classical plays, with primary focus upon works dealing broadly with the human condition," he said.

"We feel the time is at hand when the theatre must assume leadership in expounding positive values."

While concentrating upon works "more or less within the classical tradition," The Playhouse is exploring new avenues of audience involvement and contact, including various aspects of psycho-drama.

At The Interplayers, Lindeman is involved in something "which approaches guerilla theatre," according to the managing director.

"They have an altogether different approach at The Interplayers."

In the past, Lindeman and various guest directors at the presented a number of Bertolt theatre on Beach Street have Brecht's controversial social dramas, and such "avant-garde" off-Broadway plays as the current "Tom Paine."

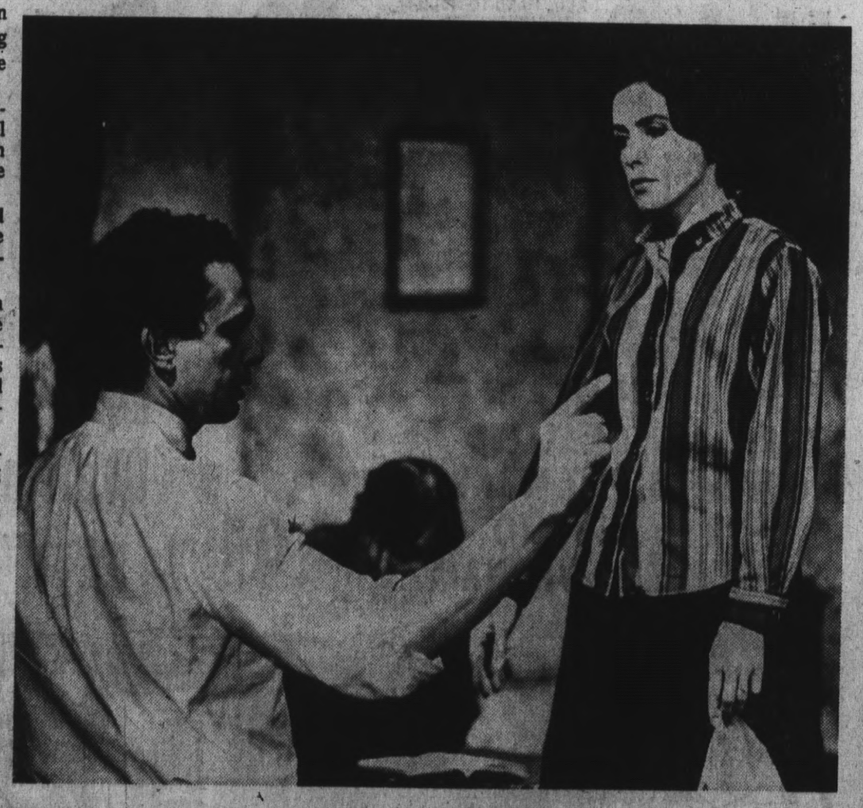
Lindeman's technique, at times, borders upon physically assaulting the audience with various props and the bodies of actors. He has, suffice it to say, transcended the traditional bans upon four-letter words and nudity.

Given the benefit of the doubt, the ultimate aim of this type of theatre is the discovery of new forms and directions.

The next Interplayers production will be "Futz," an off-Broadway play about a man's love affair with his pig.

The next Playhouse production, scheduled to open Thursday, is the great Russian classic by Anton Chekhov, "Uncle Vanya."

Post Columnist Frank LaPierre is ill. His weekly column will be resume upon his return.



Playhouse director Henry Stein works with actress Stefani Priest in prepation for last week's production of Chekhov's "Uncle Vanya." The play opened last weekend. Miss Priest played the feminine lead in the theater's highly successful production of Harold Pinters' "The Homecoming."

Light-Fingered 'Shoppers'

THE MERRY HOLIDAYS seem to have become the high season for the light-fingered. J. Edgar Hoover has described shoplifting as the "fast-growing larceny violation in the nation."

The average store in the United States is being robbed by shoplifting, internal theft or other means of about $1.50 out of every $100 worth of merchandise stocked.

This may sound like a small amount but the yearly pilferage of food stores runs up to one billion dollars; half a billion of merchandise stolen by customers; half a billion taken by employees.

PROFESSIONAL security people have estimated that there are 150,000 shopliftings per week in department, variety, food, drug snd other stores. According to the FBI, the average value of goods and property stolen by a shoplifter is $28. Prices are upped on some items as much as 10 to 15 per cent to cover the store's losses which means, in the final analysis, the non-stealing customer is being penalized — the customers are actually stealing from each other.

Shoplifters have no distinguishing marks. Surveys have shown the majority to be females. Today, fifty per cent of shoplifters range in ages ten to nineteen. They come from wide levels of income.

In the low-income teen age theft, the drive often represents a craving for possessions they cannot afford. The youth from a high income background seems to shoplift for kicks, the thrill that comes with getting away with a small theft.

In the past, stores have not taken much positive action against the shoplifter. Theft has become such a serious problem today that stores have been forced to increse their security forces, invest heavily in surveillance tools and electronic detective devices.

'Bad Faith' by BARTD Claimed

Officials of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District (BARTD) reaffirmed their rejection of Daly City's request for an underground station Dec. 10, and threatened to stop the transit line short of the city limits "unless there is agreement on the type of station."

In rejecting the request for an underground station and other changes in the design proposed by Daly City, members of the Engineering Committee of the BARTD board of directors said the alterations would add approximately $4.1 million to the cost of the project.

"We are ready to build anything Daly City wants if Daly City finances it," Director Garland Graves said, "But we don't have the money to build it."

Daly City Manager Ed Frank, who attended the Tuesday meeting, later accused the BARTD directors of "bad faith" for failing to meet with city officials to discuss the matter before arriving at a decision.

"When we appeared before the board of directors last June and presented our eight recommendations, the understanding was that there would be at least one further meeting between the BARTD officials and Daly City councilmen, Frank said.

"We did not demand the underground station," Frank said, "but only entered the proposal as a suggestion to be discussed. They did not have the courtesy to notify the city that a decision was being made."

The Engineering Committee drafted a letter to Daly City Mayor Bernard Lycett formally rejecting the underground station on Tuesday, according to Frank.

Green Valley Wilderness Area Plan Given

Green Valley, much sought after as a garbage dump by San Mateo County last year and more recently object of a sphere of influence differences between Half Moon Bay and Pacifica, could be left open as a wilderness area and in neither city's sphere, Pacifica officials proposed last week.

Pacifica Mayor Nick Gust and City Manager G. W. Masonheimer met with their Half Moon Bay counterparts, Mayor Nicholas C. DeMeo and City Administrator Fred L. Paxton, at Frank Torres' Restaurant over lunch yesterday, the first time the two cities have sat down together to talk over the matter after months of differences.

Pacifica's seeking of Green Valley as a dumpsite, despite being south of Devil's Slide and, in the eyes of the southern Coastside residents, in Half Moon Bay's sphere, has been called a "land grab" and as recently as two weeks ago Pacifica was seeking the county Board of Supervisors help in keeping Green Valley reserved for a dumpsite.

Wednesday, however. Gust told the group the Pacifica City Council would be willing to leave Green Valley and some adjacent North County Water Co. land as wilderness and drop its designs on the area as a dumpsite. Pacifica also would withdraw its request to the county Local Agencies Formation Commission that Green Valley be within its sphere.

Half Moon Bay City Council will have the matter to ponder at its meeting next Tuesday. Should it agree to do so, LAFC would be asked to redraw the sphere lines so Green Valley is not included within either city's sphere.

120 Young S.S.F. Pupils In Sales Jobs

A total of 120 younfg ladies, juniors and seniors, from South San Francisco and El Camino High Shools have been working hard to prepare themselves for possible Christmas sales work.

In workshop sessions held after school for one and one-half hours a day for one week, these girls learned the basic points of sales check writing, change making, proper use of the cash register, retail mathematics in general, and acceptable grooming for the job. In addition, time and effort were spent in discussing job attitudes and how to better serve the customer. At the end of the sessions the girls were given a comprehensive test covering these points. "Certificates of Completion" were given to 100 students.

The girls have been urged to seek jobs on their own, using their certificates as proof of their successful completion of the course.

A Dish Grecians Serve With Pride

Travel anywhere in Greece — even to the now famous Island of Skorpios, the new home of the former First Lady — and there's one dish the Greeks will serve with pride: Moussaka.

Although this delicious combination of eggplant, meat, tomato sauce, wine, herbs and cheese is the national dish of Greece, some say it originated in Roumania. The elegant eggplant, however, started in India and the Spanish were supposedly the first to eat it with cheese; the French added the final magnificent taste touch by topping it with Roquefort, the King of Cheeses. In America, the beautiful purple vegetable wasn't introduced till the early 1900's, but this relative newcomer is fast becoming a most popular and highly appreciated food.

Try this easy version of Moussaka with either lamb or beef. Select eggplants with firm, satiny purple skins, ones that are heavy for their size — this means they're ripe. Top the layers of eggplant and seasoned meat with a sour cream-Roquefort sauce. The Roquefort cheese adds wonderful flavor: this noble cheese is made exclusively from sheeps' milk (which is why it carries that little red sheep seal on its foil wrapping) and is cured only in the unique caves of Roquefort itself to give it that inimitable taste. A little of it goes a long way and it does wonders for the casserole.

With the holiday season coming up, why not plan a Greek Festival Buffet Party — as might be served on Skorpios. Start off with Green Lemon Soup; serve Roquefort-Topped Moussaka as the main course, along with green beans-and-almonds; a crisp green salad with an oil and vinegar dressing; hot sesame rolls. For dessert, Baklava, a nut-filled pastry dripping with a lemon-honey sauce and chopped walnuts, or ice-cold fruit compote flavored with cinnamon. Greek coffee is hot, very strong, black and quite sweet. Serve figs and grapes with a wedge of Roquefort for after-dinner nibbling.

MOUSSAKA WITH ROQUEFORT CREAM SAUCE

- 2 medium eggplant
- 1-3 cup all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Dash pepper
- Olive oil
- ½ pound ground lean beef or lamb
- 1 medium onion, finely chopped
- 1 can (8-ounce) tomato sauce
- ½ teaspoon oregano or thyme
- ¼ cup red wine
- 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
- ¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg
- ¾ cup Roquefort cheese, crumbled, or 3-ounce foil wrapped wedge
- ½ cup dairy sour cream
- 1 slice white bread, buttered

Peel eggplants; slice in half-inch thick slices. Combine flour, ½ teaspoon salt, and pepper in a pie plate. Dip eggplant in seasoned flour, coating well. Heat half an inch of olive oil in large skillet. Lightly brown eggplant on both sides, adding more oil as needed. Remove and keep warm.

In the same skillet, cook beef, breaking it up with a fork and stirring until well browned. Add onion, tomato sauce, oregano, wine, parsley, nutmeg and remaining salt. Cook over low heat, stirring often, until most of the moisture is absorbed and the onion tender. Arrange half the eggplant in a 9-inch baking dish. Cover with meat sauce. Top with remaining eggplant. Blend together Roquefort cheese and sour cream; spread over eggplant. Bake, uncovered, at 350 degrees 25 minutes. Tear bread into crumbs and sprinkle over top. Bake 10 minutes longer or until crumbs are lightly browned and cheese melted. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Try Green Peppers For Lamb 'Pots'

Six months out of every year green peppers are at their plentiful best. If you buy them, this is when you get the best price break on them.

Green peppers make excellent containers for a savory mixture of ground lamb, rice and tomatoes, advises a home economist.

LAMB PEPPER POTS

- 1½ pounds ground lamb
- 2 tablespoons lard or drippings
- 3 tablespoons finely chopped onion
- 1 can (16 ounces) tomatoes
- ½ cup quick-cooking rice
- ½ teaspoon leaf oregano
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- ¼ teaspoon paprika
- 6 large green peppers

Cook meat in lard or drippings until lightly browned. Add onion and cook until tender. Pour off drippings. Add tomatoes, rice, oregano, salt and paprika. Cover tightly and cook slowly 10 minutes. Remove top and seeds from green peppers. Cook peppers 5 minutes in boiling salted water. Drain. Fill peppers with meat mixture and place in a 12x8-inch baking dish. Pour hot water in dish to a depth of ½-inch. Bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 35 to 40 minutes or until done. Six servings.

Sesame Will Give Chops Nutty Flavor

An East Indian herb produces seeds which have become noted for their toasted nutlike flavor. Most people have probably tasted these flat, pale yellow seeds on rolls, bread, cookies or candy.

They also add fine flavor to a bread dressing which, in turn, goes well with pork chops.

For stuffing, chops need to be at least an inch thick. The pocket should be cut in them from the rib bone side. It will close during cooking, neatly concealing the fact that the plumpness of the chops is due to the stuffing. It's a nice surprise.

SESAME STUFFED PORK CHOPS

- 6 pork rib chops, cut 1 to 1½ inches thick, with pockets for stuffing
- 1 beef bouillon cube
- ⅓ cup hot water
- ½ cup chopped celery
- 2 tablespoons chopped onion
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 2 cups toasted bread cubes
- ¼ cup sesame seed, toasted (Toast sesame seed until lightly browned.)
- 2 teaspoons poultry seasoning
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 1 egg, slightly beaten
- 2 tablespoons lard or drippings
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- ⅓ cup water

Dissolve bouillon cube in hot water. Cook celery and onion in butter or margarine for 5 minutes. Combine bouillon, celery, onion, bread cubes, sesame seed, poultry seasoning, pepper and egg. Fill pockets in pork chops with stuffing. Brown chops in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Season with salt and pepper. Add water and cover tightly. Simmer for 1 hour or until done. Six servings.

Peaches and Melba Sauce Top Ancient Baked Meringue

Historians of cookery tell us that baked meringues were invented in 1720 by a Swiss pastry cook called Casparini. Since this early beginning, they have been prized throughout the world as the base for festive desserts featuring cream, custard, fruit and ice cream fillings.

Through the years, elaborate versions have been developed which call for shaping the meringue into crowns, tortes, pyramids and other fancy shapes. Up to the beginning of the 19th Century, however, baked meringues were shaped with a spoon into individual or larger rounds because the pastry tube had not yet been invented.

Like the earliest versions, the following recipe calls for shaping the meringue mixture with a spoon. The suggested topping is frozen sliced peaches, ice cream and a Melba Sauce made with frozen raspberries.

Other frozen fruits such as raspberries, strawberries, blueberries and mixed fruit are equally appropriate with the meringue base. And, as an alternate for the ice cream, spread the meringue with whipped cream, then add the drained frozen fruit.

PEACH MERINGUE WITH MELBA SAUCE

Meringue Base:
- 3 egg whites
- ⅛ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon cream of tartar
- 1 cup sugar
- ½ teaspoon vanilla

Melba Sauce:
- 1 package (10 ounces) frozen raspberries, thawed
- ½ cup currant jelly
- 2 teaspoons cornstarch
- 1 tablespoon cold water

Topping:
- 1 quart vanilla ice cream
- 2 packages (10 ounces) frozen sliced peaches, thawed

For meringue place egg whites in large bowl of electric mixer, let stand at room temperature at least 1 hour. Add salt and cream of tartar to egg whites. Beat at high speed until whites form soft peaks. At low speed, add sugar, about 2 tablespoons at a time, beating about 2 minutes after each addition to thoroughly dissolved sugar. Add vanilla and continue beating at medium speed until mixture is very stiff and glossy, about 10 minutes.

Cover a cooky sheet with aluminum foil. Place a 9-inch cake or pie pan on foil; draw around it with a blunt knife to mark a 9-inch circle. With a spoon, spread meringue to cover the circle. Bake in a preheated slow oven (300-degrees F.) 45 minutes, or until shell is dry on outside. Cool on wire rack. If not used immediately, cover cooled meringue lightly with waxed paper or foil and store in tightly covered container.

For sauce, drain raspberries. Combine raspberry syrup and jelly in saucepan. Bring to a boil over low heat. Mix together cornstarch and cold water. Add to syrup mixture and continue to cook, stirring frequently, until clear and thickened. Add raspberries. Chill. If desired, strain through a sieve before chilling.

To serve, arrange peach slices over cooled meringue shell, allowing juice to soak into the meringue. Top with scoops of ice cream. Pass chilled Melba Sauce separately for spooning or pouring over each serving.

Makes 1 9-inch meringue and 1-¼ cups sauce.

Meat Balls Of Canned Lunch Meat

Easy-do and thrifty, too, are meat balls made from canned luncheon meat. Nestle them in small squash halves, touch with a brown sugar-vinegar glaze.

Many of the smaller canned meat items like the 12-ounce can of lunheon meat used here do not even need refrigeration, points out a home economist. It keeps in a dry, cool place like the shelf in cabinet, pantry or cupboard.

It's smart to have on hand for slicing as a sandwich meat, in strips or cubes for a salad or baked with cloves and glaze for an entree of another kind.

MEAT BALL AND SQUASH BAKE
- 1 can (12 ounces) luncheon meat
- 3 medium acorn squash
- 1 egg, beaten
- 2 tablespoons milk
- ½ cups of bread crumbs
- 1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
- 1 teaspoon dry mustard
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- 3 tablespoons vinegar

Cut squash in half lengthwise and remove seeds. Place cut side down in shallow pan and bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 30 minutes. Break up with fork or grind luncheon meat. Combine egg, milk, bread crumbs and meat. Mix thoroughly. Shape meat mixture into 18 balls using about 1 rounded tablespoon for each. Turn partially baked squash, cut side up, and place 3 meat balls in each. Combine brown sugar, mustard, salt and vinegar and spread over meat balls in squash. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 30 minutes, or until squash is tender. 4 to 6 servings.

Pears With Port Between The Holidays

Between the holidays, this is a pleasant dish.

SUNDAY SUPPER

Fish Chowder Pilot Crackers
Tossed Green Salad
Pears with Port Ladyfingers

PEARS WITH PORT
- ½ cup sugar
- 1-16 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups hot water
- ½ cup tawny port
- Thin spiral-cut rind from ½ orange
- 4 small (about 1¼ pounds) pears

Into a 1½ or 2-quart saucepan turn the sugar, salt, water and port. Stir over high heat until sugar dissolves. Bring to a boil; remove from heat; add orange rind.

Remove stems from pears and peel but do not core. As pears are ready, drop them into the syrup. Bring to a boil. Over moderate heat boil gently, uncovered, turning pears several times, until centers are soft when pierced with a fork—about 15 to 20 minutes.

With a slotted spoon remove pears to a bowl. Discard orange rind. There will be about 1½ cups syrup; boil until reduced to about 1 cup—about 10 minutes. Pour syrup over pears. Cover and chill. Serve with custard sauce. Makes four servings. In testing his recipe, we used Anjou pears.

Cost of Food Labor Much Less

The cost of individual food items in terms of labor required to purchase them shows a substantial reduction since 1947. For example, an hour of labor today purchases about 70 per cent more beef and about 75 per cent more pork than it did then.

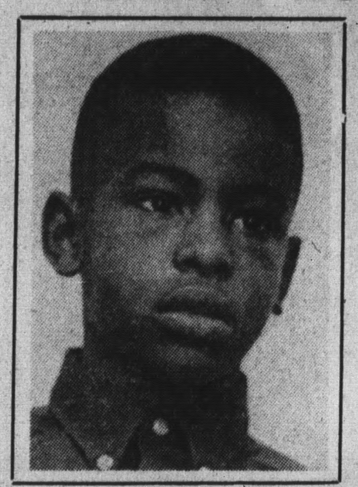
"What I would do as Santa's Helper"



JIMMIE SUTPHEN
27 No. Humboldt, San Mateo, Calif.

Jimmie is 9 years old and is in the fourth grade at the George Hall Grammar School. He has three brothers, Rby, Jerri Wayne, and Dwayne Earl. Jimmie plays the violin and likes mathematics and typing. His favorite hobbies are baseball and swimming.

"If I were Santa's helper," Jimmie writes, "I would ask for a job. I would help make the toys and I would find all the names of all boys and girls. I would go out with Santa and help give toys to all the poor families who don't have enough money, but before that I would help pack all the toys and make all the toys that they said they wanted."

LINDA GALINDO
190 Trinity Ct., San Bruno, Calif.

10-year-old Linda is in the fifth grade at Our Lady of Mercy grammar school. She has a brother David, 11, and a sister, Cathy, 7 years old. Her favority hobby is "Pen-Pals" and she takes dancing lessons. She has a pet cat.

Linda writes: "If I were Santa's helper I would polish his shoes till they shone and when his jolly red suit gets all worn out I would make him a new one. When the day came that Santa had to go downtown I would go with him to take pictures and sit the children on his lap. And after a hard day of working on toys and sitting with children to take pictures, I would sit him in his comfortable chair, bring him his slippers and then on a tray I would bring him a delicious warm meal with all his favorite dishes. And then when it was time to go to bed I'd tuck him in nice and snug. Then I would set his alarm clock so he wouldn't wake too early for he must get enough sleep for the coming of the big day, Christmas."

$200 in Prizes Awarded to children writing best letter on: "What I would do as Santa's Helper."

Services will be held tomorrow at 11:30 a.m. from San Bruno Funeral Home, with interment at Golden Gate National Cemetery.

1st Woman Safety Officer

By GEORGE GOLDING
Post Staff Writer

Mrs. Ruth A. Ansuriza, 43, 1750 Earl Avenue, San Bruno, is the first woman Airfield Safety Officer in the history of San Francisco International Airport.

Possibly the first one anywhere.

Airfield Safety Officers are none too numerous. San Francisco International has only a dozen, and many airports have none at all.

Their job is to patrol the runways, taxiways and aircraft parking aprons, making sure the airfield is in a safe condition and being used in a safe manner. They guide repair crews working on the runways, supervise contractors expanding the airfield, are in charge of the airfield in case of a crash emergency.

Until a couple months ago, they were all men.

In fact, when operations officers at San Francisco International learned a woman had been assigned to the job, something akin to panic ran through their masculine ranks.

So far, however, Mrs. Ansuriza is doing a good job, according to her boss, S. V. Tringali, operations supervisor.

The wife of a San Francisco solo motorcycle officer David R. Ansuriza, she was a "meter maid" in the city for nearly four years. Last year, the city's Civil Service Commission ruled that the Airport Airfield Safety Officer job was one for which meter maids, as well as city policemen and firemen, were eligible to take the exam. Of about 50 applicants, she rated fifth. Two of the others have since taken other jobs, and so, Mrs. Ansuriza was the first woman to become an Airfield Safety Officer.

She was interested in the job because her husband is a private flier and she hopes to become a pilot someday, money and time permitting, she said.

"Also," she said, "when the Civil Service Commission ruled we were eligible, I felt I should at least respond and take the test.

"Frankly, I was surprised that I passed it," she added.

But pass it she did, and so a petite redhead joined the ranks of San Francisco International's husky crew of cigar-smoking enforcers of safety regulations.

After four weeks of training in 26 subjects including radio procedures, FAA regulations, airport layout and operations, first aid, sound abatement, instrument flight rules, and "notices to airmen," she donned her tan trousers and shirt, pinned on her heavy gold badge, and went to work.

She has worked graveyard, swing, and day shifts, patrolling 100 miles of runways in sunshine, rain, and darkness, and she finds her work challenging.

There was responsibility in her former work as a meter maid, and interest, but at the airport there are more varieties of things to be interest in, and "the responsibility is increased a hundred fold."

"I see no end to the learning involved," she said, with new planes, new equipment being developed all the time, and the airport constantly expanding, as well.

"Everyone I've come in contact with has been very patient with me," she added.

Tringali suggested that perhaps Mrs. Ansuriza's experience on her former job was her chief qualification. He admits she is also sure of herself, able to make decisions on her own, capable of handling every situation that has come up.

Not only has the masculine barrier been broken, he comments, but there is another former meter maid on the list who may become an Airfield Safety Officer soon.

Then he will have to start worrying about a locker room.

With Mrs. Ansuriza living in nearby San Bruno, that has been no problem. She comes to work in her uniform, the only uniformed San Francisco International Airport employe since the field was started in 1926.

MAKING SURE airplanes can operate safely at San Francisco International Airport is her "thing." Mrs. Ruth A. Ansuriza of San Bruno is the airport's first female member of a dozen Airfield Safety Officers who enforce safety regulations and take charge of emergencies on the runways, taxiways, and parking aprons.

Pamphlet on Labor Sent to Schools

"The Rise of Organized Labor," a pamphlet prepared by the Harvard Social Studies Project for use in high schools, will be distributed to social science department heads throughout San Mateo County for their consideration as a resource for the study of organized labor.

The announcement was made by Robert Delzell, secretary-treasurer of the Union Label and Service Trades Council of San Mateo County.

A recent survey of high school history textbooks has revealed a serious lack of material relevant to the history of organized labor and of the important role it has played in the development of the nation.

The Union Label Council of San Mateo County has as one of its specific purposes "the education of the general public to the economic, social and moral uplift furthered by the Trade Union Movement." The council represents many of the local unions with members living on the Peninsula.

The pamphlet presents an objective study of organized labor by presenting dramatic case histories which focus on individuals in crucial situations and by means of a challenging sequence of questions about values and facts relative to the history of labor.

The council has also sponsored the use of the award winning film "The Inheritance" in the schools. Inquiries should be directed to the Union Label Council, Box 6, San Mateo.

TERRA NOVA GRAD

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — Airman Gerald L. Schnecker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Schnecker of 20 Point Reyes Way, Pacifica, has completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex. He has been assigned to Chanute AFB, Ill., for training in the aircraft equipment maintenance field. Airman Schnecker is a 1968 graduate of Terra Nova High School.

Candlelight Services Set

Christmas Eve candlelight services will be held at Bethlehem Lutheran Church, 533 Hickey Boulevard, Pacifica, on December 24 at 7 p.m.

This will be a family service for children, youth, and adults and will feature the lighting of candles and the singing of traditional Christmas carols.

Nursery care will be provided for infants.

Both the adult choir and the girls' chorus will sing special Christmas music.

On December 22, Bethlehem's church school children and staff will present, "To Thee We Sing," a Christmas program for parents and friends.

It will include songs by the children, narration, and Christmas film.

Expect State OK On D.C. Land
